

Civics, Soci Students Teach Classes

During the week beginning October 25, representatives of the Civics and Social Living classes taught government to freshmen and sophomore English classes.

In 1951 the General Assembly of Indiana passed a law making it mandatory for all high school students to study government every other year for five hours during the two weeks prior to election. Seniors and juniors receive this instruction in their Civics or Social Living and U. S. History classes, respectively. Since the sophomores and freshmen do not have any required social studies course, the English classes are used.

The law was passed because the General Assembly thought that the parents would become better informed about the election through their children and would become more interested in voting.

Mishawaka High School Plays Host to NCCJ

Mishawaka High School was host to high school students and teachers from throughout St. Joseph County on October 28. "Let's Harmonize," an Institute sponsored by the Junior Roundtable of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, had youth and his part in the community as its theme.

Dr. John J. Young, superintendent of Mishawaka public schools, led a symposium which discussed the problem from the angles of home, school, church, and community. There were four adults and four teen-agers on the panel. James Dincolo and Naomi Ross of Adams were among the teen-agers. Nancy MacIvor and James Dincolo were discussion leaders.

Entertainment after supper featured solos by George Fischhoff and Bill Nicks, who performed on piano and drums, respectively.

BASKETBALL SEASON TICKETS TO BE SOLD

Monday, November 8, at 3:15 p. m. 1954-55 basketball season tickets will go on sale. The price for students is $2.50 for the 9 home games. Adults will be charged $6.00. Application blanks for student tickets will be handed out in all home rooms on November 8. Adult letters were sent out November 2 with applications explaining season ticket purchases. Band members may purchase tickets at a discount depending on the number of games at which they will play.

The students will be seated according to classification. Sophomore, junior, and senior students are to sit in the south and southwest bleachers. The freshmen and Jr. High students will occupy the northwest bleachers.

Our first home game will be November 18 with Washington-Clay. The Holiday tourney will be played December 29 and 30. New opponents on the Adams schedule are Terre Haute Garfield, Sheridan, and Columbus this year. Hartford City will visit Adams for the first time.

To be assured of obtaining a sectional ticket, students are encouraged to buy a season ticket, as first preference for tourney tickets is given to season ticket holders. Last year 600 student tickets and 350 adult tickets were sold.

Prep Glee Club Meets

The Prep Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence T. Pate, held its first meeting October 11. Fifty students attended the first rehearsal. The meetings are held every Monday afternoon from 3:15 p. m. to 4:15 p. m.

At the second meeting on October 18 an election of officers was held. Those elected were as follows: Ed Bryleski, president; Billie Jean Woodall, vice president; Tom Miller, business manager; Phyllis Plotkin, Iris Kendall, secretaries; Nancy Koss, Marla Carter, librarians; Cris Fogarty, Joan Buss, robe committee members.

The Prep Glee Club will assist the Senior Glee Club with the Christmas vesper service and assembly. In addition they will give the Easter Program.

The club is composed primarily of freshmen, although there are members who are upperclassmen. For students who enjoy singing this is an organization in which they may participate and strive to improve their voices so they are strong enough to try out for the senior glee club.

to join the Debate Club should attend the meeting, November 8, in room 107.

College Information Available in Office

Students interested in going to college or attending a specialized training school may find it helpful to know what information is available in the guidance office.

Current college catalogs from a large number of colleges, big and small, are offered as an aid in choosing colleges, in deciding what college offers the course desired by each student, and in determining tuition, board, and room fees. Along the line of costs, there is a bulletin, compiled in 1954, on the expenses students are expected to meet at various colleges.

There is a list of scholarships offered at various colleges along with posters and letters, which are received daily, telling of scholarship opportunities to incoming freshmen.

The bulletin board contains information on college board examinations and college representatives who will be visiting Adams.

Any student should feel free to come in and consult the information available to them in the guidance office.

1954-55 Guidance Councils Organized

Every year students are chosen to plan the guidance programs for their class. They meet regularly with Miss Burns and the home room teachers.

The following people were chosen to be on the guidance councils for 1954-55:

Seniors: Bruce Ball, 112; Janet Golba, 103; Darlene Jankowski, 22; Sharon Reber, 108; Rita Stull, Library; Brian Campbell, Barbara Goddard, 107; Nancy Smuts, Gerald Vascil, 209.

Juniors: Mildred Lantz, Eugene Personett, 201; Gwen Garwood, Sharon Gyorgi, 113; Wayne Benner, Colleen Grayson, 203; Joan Reese, Beverly Shafer, 213; Pat Wallace, Stanley Valentine, 210; Vivian Kurtz, Martha Martin, 205; Pat Dickens, Robert Badger, 106; Joyce Perkins, Judith Ranschaert, 206.

String Trio Formed

A String Trio, composed of Sue Carlson, violin, Marilyn Enfield, cello, and Naomi Ross, piano, has been formed. The three entertained at a teachers' luncheon on October 21 at the Y. W. C. A. Residence and will play at the Indiana Club on November 9 for a dietician's dinner.

The group is available to play dinner music or for programs.

Drama Club Discusses Joining The National Thespian Organization

An important meeting was held Tuesday evening in the Little Theater for all Drama Club members. James Dincolo, president of the club, who presided over the meeting, discussed the idea of joining "The National Thespians." The National group is based on the merit system and there is a chance for advancement for all members after joining. The purpose is to help boys and girls become better acquainted with dramatics and with what goes on in the dramatics world.

Another topic discussed was putting on a play in the spring. The Drama Club members felt that all would benefit a great deal if this chance was given. Mr. Brady, the club sponsor, is trying to present many different ideas to make the club more active and to encourage more people to attend the club meetings.

DEBATE CLUB IS SMALL BUT ACTIVE

One of the smallest, but most active clubs at Adams is the Debate Club.

The Debate Club, sponsored by Mr. Alonzo Goldsberry, operates with a conference similar to that of the varsity sports. The group engages in debates, participates in the extemporaneous speech contest, and the after dinner talk competition.

The John Adams Debate Club holds debates with teams from other schools, are guests at the Purdue debate conference, and presents an assembly for John Adams students.

THE TRUE SIGNIFICANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

Very few of us realize the true significance of Armistice Day. How many of us know why November 11 is listed as a holiday on the calendar? A short history of this holiday would be of benefit to each and every one of us.

Armistice Day celebrates the end of actual fighting in World War I, on November 11, 1918. On this day German representatives signed a truce between the Allies and Germany. The signing took place in a railroad dining car in the Forest of Compiègne, France. On each November 11, most of the Allied countries commemorate this event.

The British Armistice Day services are held in front of the Cenotaph in London, and the French services at the Arch of Triumph in Paris. The celebration in the United States is centered at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. In many places throughout the world a period of silence is observed at eleven o'clock in the morning, the hour at which the fighting stopped. The Congress of the United States made Armistice Day a legal holiday for the District of Columbia in 1938. All the states of the Union also have made it a holiday.

Let's try to recall in the years to come the real meaning of this holiday. Each of us should hope that it will never be necessary for our children, grandchildren, or even great-grandchildren to celebrate a similar Armistice Day commemorating the end of World War III! — Wendy Heron.

JUNIOR CLASS SELLS GREATEST NUMBER OF TOWER SUBSCRIPTIONS

This year the junior class had the greatest number of subscribers to the Tower. The seniors were second; the freshmen were next and the sophomores, last.

Special recognition goes to Jean Weidler, 10B home room representative from room 215, who sold more subscriptions than anyone else in school. Allen Berta, home room 106, was second with 20 subscriptions. Phyllis Barton, a freshman from 105, and Joe Vanderhayden, a senior from the Library, were the next highest subscription solicitors.

To make an easy job seem mighty hard, just keep putting off doing it.

The Adamites at the Four Corners are talking about: the Halloween pranks pulled last week-end, the stomach aches resulting from all the cider and goodies eaten on "All Saints Eve," those mile long ropes of pearls worn by the female student body, the craze about that mad, mad color lavender, that "cool" (in more ways than one) Elkhart game last Saturday, and the early bird juniors who were ready and waiting for the busses at 4:45 a. m. to depart for the Detroit history trips. Student Directory Plans Made by Senior Cabinet

The Senior Cabinet, under the direction of Mrs. Archibald McClure, has begun its activities for the year. One of the most important jobs of the seniors is to print the annual Student Directory. The directory contains the name, address, phone number, and classification of each John Adams student.

Suzie Frehse and Thomas Smith are co-chairmen for this year's directory. Arrangements have been made for the advertising, printing, and binding of the book. During Teachers' Institute, fifteen typists completed transferring the information from the office files. Martha Keim, Joan Nielsen, Mary Ann Anderson, Mary Kline, Pat Bourdon, Mary Orzech, Loretta Kaczmierczak, Mary Ellen Rosenthal, Suzie Frehse, Beverly Miller, Rita Stull, Barbara Goddard, Carolyn Dempsey, Judy Cobb, and Karol Kerschner typed all the names in a manner suitable for printing.

The directory should be on sale in a few weeks for 25 cents.

Home Economics I Classes Make Stuffed Animals

In the second and third hour Home Economics I classes, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Laiber, stuffed animals were made as part of a three week course in Child Care. The animals were made of scraps of material from school or from home. This semester they were stuffed with foam rubber instead of the usual cotton. The cost to make each animal averaged about twenty cents.

No two animals were made alike and some of them were displayed on the bulletin board in the Home Economics room. The animals were either kept by the girls or given to friends or relatives.

EAGLES POST BEST RECORD IN ADAMS HISTORY

Gridders Gain Win No. 6 Against Blue Blazers

Adams' 13 to 12 defeat of Elkhart gave the Eagles a 6-1 record, the best in the history of John Adams. Touchdowns by VanDusen and Wygant, and Robbins' all important extra point gave the Eagles the winning 13 points. Jack Doubterteen and Henry Robinson scored Elkhart's 12 points.

Elkhart controlled the first half scoring 6 of their 12 points. Robinson recovered a fumble on Adams' 33 yard line, and on the next play Doubterteen went all the way for the touchdown. The Blazers tried to kick the extra point but failed. Both teams battled back and forth in the second stanza, but neither team was able to score.

Adams opened the second half with a 46-yard march for a touchdown after VanDusen returned the kick-off from the Adams 33 to the Elkhart 46. VanDusen scored the touchdown from the 2 yard line. He also tried the extra point but failed.

The Blazers fought right back and returned the kick-off to the 35. In three plays they worked the ball to the 50 where, on the next play, Robinson broke through the middle of the line and scampered over the goal. Elkhart again missed the extra point and led 12 to 6.

Adams drove 61 yards to tie the score with Wygant crashing through the line for 7 yards and the touchdown. Johnny Robbins then added the winning point with a quarter-back sneak.

Basketball Season Opens Nov. 18

November 18 will mark the opening of the John Adams Eagles' 1954-55 basketball season. Their first game will be a home game against the Washington-Clay Colonials.

Some new teams that Coach Seaborg's men will face this year are Columbus, Sheridan, and Terre Haute Garfield, which is rated number one in the state along with Muncie Central.

Coach Seaborg will be relying mainly on the returning lettermen of last year. They are Tom Troeger, Chuck LaPierre, Bob Klowetter, John Waechter, Dick Green, and Larry VanDusen. There are also many "B" team hopefuls of last year that will aid the team.

Comparing this year's team with that of last year, Seaborg said that this year's team will have more experience and will be more evenly balanced, but the team will miss the big scoring punch and the rebound of Jerry Thompson. "All in all," Coach Warren Seaborg said, "we have a pretty fair ball club."

A resume of the St. Joe - Adams game will be given next week. The TOWER deadline with the printer was Monday, November 1.

Annual Clinic Is Held

Under the sponsorship of the St. Joseph Valley Officials Association, the annual basketball clinic was held in the John Adams Auditorium October 28. New rules along with changes in the old rules were explained, and the motion picture "King Basketball" was shown.

The major change in the rules this year is in the procedure of foul shots. Now, if a player misses his first free throw, the ball is in play instead of giving the player another toss. If the shot is made, a bonus shot is awarded. Thus, if the first shot is missed, you're through; if the first shot is made, there is a chance to score two points. In the case of the regular two-shot fouls and a foul in the last three minutes of play, two free throws will be awarded automatically. The purpose of the rule is to stress accuracy and reduce fouling.

"King Basketball" is a movie which visually explains the general rules of basketball.

B Team Ends Season

By tripping Riley's "B" team 7-0 on October 23, the reserves finished their season with a 3-3-1 record. Riley received the opening kick-off and fumbled when Lescher of Adams landed a smashing tackle. Adams recovered, and on the second play from scrimmage, Berry Grady darted 18 yards for the lone tally. Don Severeid booted the extra point.

The future varsity is coached by Mr. Laiber. Coach Laiber has been preparing and will be sending many players up to the varsity next year in order that the varsity may have another successful season.
