Adams To Battle Colonials Thursday

COACH KOSS Eagles To Meet County Champs In Game Thursday

Thursday at 1:30 p.m., the John Adams Eagles will tangle with what we hope to be just their first of four opponents. This game will be by no means a runaway for either team, as both are rated strongly as major sectional contenders.

Coach Harold Eaton's Washington-Clay squad has a record which has few marrs. On the other hand they have played only two city teams-John Adams and Washington. Adams was beaten and Washington emerged with no more than a one point win. Adams has improved greatly since their begin-

HOOSIER HISTERIA AT ITS HIGHEST DURING SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT TIME

Well, here it is again. The thrill packed time of the year has rolled around—the Indiana Sectional Basketball Tournament. The orders for tickets have been filled and enthusiasm was high at the opening games which started last night. The drawings carded some very fine games, with such prominent contenders as Adams, Mishawaka, Central, and Washington-Clay. The tournament here is wide open and every team has an equal chance. There are over 800 teams participating throughout the state, and some 500 of these will be eliminated by Saturday night.

The South Bend sectional consists of some of the keenest competition in the state. There have been no predictions on who will cop the honors this year, Conference titles have been won, but by now they are almost forgotten as state championship hopes become foremost.

The tourney consists of teams representing city, parochial, and township schools from all over the state. The tournament is open to any team who cares to participate.

ning-of-the-season game with the Colonials. In addition to this, Adams swallowed Washington by a considerable margin. All in all, however, any team is tough at sectional time and past records and performances can be thrown out the window.

Washington-Clay is the champions of the county teams and employs a great deal of that all important height. It will be a battle from the start to the finish but we'll stick by our Eagles to the

Three Adams Scouts Take Positions in City Administration

James Sears, James Considine and Bob Zenzinger walked off with high positions during the 39th anniversary of scouting celebrated last week by becoming mayor, city controller and county clerk respectively. The boys were shown the inside of the city's government in action, were introduced to many of the influential people of South Bend, and were consulted as to possible civic improvements. The youthful city administrators were a welcome air to our regular officials as was evidenced by one health executive's request that the position of health commissioner be added to the list of scout officers. According to the mayor, if scouts were taken to fill all the positions for which they had been requested, there would doubtless be no scouts left in the ranks.

Sportsmanship Prayer

"Dear Lord, in the battle that goes on through life, I ask but a field that is fair;

A chance that is equal to all in the strife;

A courage to strive and to dare;

And if I should win, let it be the code.

With my faith and my honor held high;

And if I should lose let me stand by the road,

And cheer as the winners go by.

And Lord, may my shouts be ungrauding and clear

A tribute that comes from the heart,

And let me not cherish a snarl or a sneer

Or play any sniveling part;

Let me say, "There they ride on whom laurels bestowed,"
Since they played the game better than I.

Let me stand with a smile by the side of the road

And cheer as the winners go by. So grant me to conquer; if conquer I can,

By proving my worth in the fray;

But teach me to lose like a Regular Man.

And not like a craven I pray,

Let me take off my hat to the winners who strode

To victory, splendid and high.

Yes, teach me to stand by the side of the road And cheer as the winners go by."

A DAY IN THE MAYOR'S OFFICE

There is no comparision between the giving of a speech to be elected Scout Mayor for a day and actually being in the mayor's office.

I had been in the city hall before and had been in various offices but never in the hallowed ground of the mayor's office. A group of scouts and I went in and the mayor received us cordially. He insisted that I take his chair while he got his hat and coat to pose for the Tribune photographer.

Even while the whole group was there I saw evidence of the hum that goes on around the leader of a city and the leader of a party. After the rest of the scouts had gone to their respective offices, the mayor's day began. Mayor Schock had been in his office since nine o'clock and at ten we looked in on the man with whom I was to share the day.

I thoroughly enjoyed the day and our lunch at Rotary Club, but what I really liked was the opportunity it gave me to gain practical knowledge of the administration portion of the government. Scout Miller, one of the candidates in the election, said that "no matter who is elected we will all have gained something from the election. I am reminded of the proverb that says "We get out of a thing what we put in." How true that was on Scout Day at the city hall where those scouts learned what civic day meant.

Shirley May and Clyde Hostettler sure do spend a lot of time together.

Then of course there is always that faithful couple Lois Warstler and Dave Hyde.

Jo Green and Bill Clark. Jo and Bill won the door prize, a cute little puppy.

Pat Rohrbaugh looks a little lonesome since her man went to California. (The lucky guy: this weather is getting me down.)

Dot DePree and Dennis Kunce still have that love-light in their eyes. And in case you are blind or something so have Jeanette Mueller and Jim Nevins and Judy Riggs and Bill Barr (Central.)

Another happy couple is Myrajane Lea and Jack Pinckert.

Watch for the second annual "Stardust Cafe." It will probably be March 22.

It appears that Wanda Smith likes her last name because she is going steady with Art Smith (Washington-Clay).

HOW NOT TO GO ABOUT GETTING A TOURNEY TICKET

— Bang! The gun goes off ending the fourt hand final quarter of play with the high-flying Adams Eagles leaving the grounded Ground Hogs of Gulping Gulf on the ground. And now Bert Klish and his —

Ah yes, these tournaments are really the thing.

When I first heard that the season ticket holders would get priority on tournament tickets, then the seniors, then the juniors, and last of all us sophomores, I did some quick thinking (ugh, ugh, chug, squeak) those are the noises of the rusty wheels of thought.)

Snap! I have it. I would go with a group of seniors. I have a lot of senior friends. Fine plan, only one fault, the seniors would have to buy their tickets with the sophomores. Well, I had a lot of senior friends. There are other ways. I could forge a ticket. No, too risky. Ah, the perfect solution. I'll let my whiskers grow a week and pass for a senior. — Time marches on Well, they've grown a week but there still aren't any there. (I'll try anyway. I stride into the office that afternoon and this conversation takes place.)

"Wanda, I want a tournament ticket."

"Classification?"

"12A" (Shame on me)

"Home room teacher?"

"Mr. Krider"

"Sorry Bud, next man."

Why didn't someone tell me that there weren't any seniors in Mr. Krider's home room.

I still say there are other ways. Ah! For the third time, I've got it. Here's a time when my connections with the ushers will come in handy. — It's all fixed now. My best pal an usher, will let me in at 2:30 sharp. With my band uniform on it'll be a cinch to get in without a ticket. — The great day has arrived. I walk confidently up to the front doors, what? alas! At the front doors taking tickets stand Messieurs Nelson, Reber, and Thompson.

Gee, it sure would have been nice seeing the game instead of listening to it sandwiched between these packing boxes at the grocery. (my radio broke down.)

Did flattery get you anywhere as mayor. Jim?

Heard quite a few of the senior girls had fun at Rita Stebner's wedding last week.

Did all you Social Living students notice Keith Arenz's picture in the Tribune with General Wainright? This information might help you make a ten on one of those current events tests.

A student in Miss Roell's class wondered why so many people went to Niles and Elkhart to attend the movies. Miss Roell, always helpful, answered because of the long ride home.

Dale Litherland is now one of the busiest men about town coming here for band practice, attending I. U. Extension and working.

Quoted from one of Mr. Goldsberry's Social Living classes: "God couldn't be every place at once so he created mothers."

Wedding bells rang out last week for Miss Kemski, our nurse. The lucky man was Mr. James Houghton.

Congratulations to Miss Laurette Canter for winning the audition contest with the South Bend Symphony. Laurette made her debut with the symphony February 20.

ADAMS DEBATING TEAMS WIN TWO OF FOUR DEBATES

On Thursday, February 10, four debate teams from John Adams entered Central High School prepared for an inter-school debate tourney.

John Adams entered two affirmative and two negative teams. David James and David Sanderson of the affirmative lost a fairly close decision to a Knox Township Negative team. Janet Shulmier and LaMar Worley won over the Madison Township negative team. Edwin Dean and Evelyn Estes of one of our negative teams came close but not close enough to winning out over an alert Knox Affirmative team. LaPorte, one of our most potent foes in the debate field, lost a fast moving contest to a wide-awake John Adams negative team consisting of Bob Gross and Joan Partritz.

On February 17 the Debate team met Central and Nappanee. The first team met Central and the second string met Nappanee. The second string, composed of sophomores, was made up of Edwin Dean and Evelyn Estes taking the negative point of view and David Sanderson and David James on the affirmative side.

Whatever trouble Adam had No man in days of yore Could say, when he had told a joke, "I've heard that one before."

Adams Accompanist Appears With South Bend Symphony

Our own Laurette Canter was one of the featured soloists with the South Bend Symphony orchestra last Sunday. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Edwyn Haymes, has provided an opportunity for the past two years for local people to be soloists with the orchestra.

Laurette won this right to appear with the orchestra in the annual audition contest which was held January 9. This is really her dream come true as every soloist dreams of an appearance with a symphony orchestra.

Laurette began her music lessons at the age of five. She has been a pupil of Sister Monica Marie at St. Mary's college for eight years and is also studying with Leo Podolsky.

Laurette is accompanist for the John Adams glee club and also the St. Mary's glee club.

TROEGER LEADS SCORING IN ADAMS SET BACK BY HAMMOND

February 11, 1949: A fast Hammond outfit upset the Adams Eagles in a 29-24 tilt which again put the Eagles in the losers column.

Hammond jumped off to a lead early in the first quarter and continued to dominate the donut shaped loop throughout the duration of the game. The team that played against Hammond was quite. different from the previous "B" squad. Don Acton, a boy who just recently came over from Nuner and was on the "C" squad was elevated and played on the "B" squad Friday, the other new boy was Jack Troeger who originally played on the varsity. In addition to these changes the squad was without the services of Don Oakes and Marty Weissert who have been over to the varsity, and who previously were top scorers. The "B" team will play one more conference game, this with Elkhart. This is also the last regular game of the year. Jack Troeger led the scoring for the Eagles with Bob Reinke and Bob Pfaff also grabbing their share of tallies.

WASHINGTON PANTHERS RAP EAGLES "C" SQUAD

February 11, 1949: A hard hit Adams squad trailed all the way to be defeated by a wide awake Panther attack 28-14. Bob Zimmerman and George Christy paced the way for the Eagles, each scoring a sizy four points. This is the second defeat at the hands of Washington for the Eagles, the first conquest was a defeat by only five points.

Every year the Board of Control finds it necessary to declare a large number of students ineligible for all athletics until the following January 1 because of participation in independent basketball out of season. By action of the Athletic Council on October 23, 1946, the last day of the I.H.S.A.A. Sectional Tourneys is the close of the season for all independent basketball playing. This rule applies to seniors as well as all other students.

PAIRINGS FOR SOUTH BEND CAGE SECTIONAL.

By JOHN HORVATH

Let us step back in history now for a recap of tourneys of the past. Central has won six of the previous eight meets with Adams and Riley each winning one.

Last year Adams came up against Central in the final game of the sectional on Saturday night but their shooting average was uncanny and therefore they dropped the tilt, by a 57-39 score. The Eagles worked up to this point by defeating Woodrow Wilson 46-34 and beating Washington 51-44 in a closely contested battle. In the semi-final of the sectional the Adams team swamped a Lakeville five by a 55-30 score. After great playing the Eagles were a little worn out and could not match Central's baskets and therefore they dropped the tournament. "Moe" Ziker lead the sectional scoring with some 51 points.

Two years ago Adams was matched against the tourney favorite, Central, and was topped by a score of 49-34. Central took the sectional and the regional but lost out in the semi-final. Earlier in this season the Eagles fell to Central by a 31-30 score.

Three years ago Riley brought back part of their championship team of 1945 only to be knocked off by John Adams in an overtime contest 40-36. But one upset was all that Lady Luck would hand out and Adams fell to Central by a score of 48-41. Bob Adams collected 23 points himself. New Carlisle, the "fairy team" of the tourney gave Central a scare but an overtime stopped their threat 41-37 in the final game.

The 1946 sectional tied the individual scoring record held by Pete Mount of Lebanon. The record breaker was none other than Carl Zahl, New Carlisle forward, who hit for 31 points against Woodrow Wilson. The previous sectional record was 24 points held by Carl Lloyd.

Back in 1945 Adams came thru with a 40-38 upset victory to snap Woodrow Wilson's 20 game winning streak. Again ill-luck set in as Adams lost to Lakeville 34-29. This was a year that will be long remembered by Riley fans. This was the year when Riley fought up to the State Finals only to be dropped by Evansville Bosse 46-36 in the final game.

Then came 1944 the year for John Adams. This year Adams ended up their conference standings with a tie for second place with LaPorte. Adams came thru by defeating Woodrow Wilson 55-23, Washington-Clay 52-23, and Mishawaka 35-22. This brought together Adams and the sectional dominating Central. Adams came out of the encounter with a 36-30 victory and the sectional crown.

Way back six years ago in 1943 Adams opened with a 50-28 victory over Walkerton only to get dropped by Washington-Clay 43-42. Central came into the sectionals with a No. 1 rating in the state. They came out the winner as was expected by defeating Riley 29-26. Typical Indiana basketball took over as Central fell to Elkhart in the regional by a score of 47-43. This shows that ratings are not everything.

In 1942 Central again took sectional by edging out North Liberty 36-32. We complete our little trip down memory lane with the 1941 sectional, the first encounter here at Adams. Central was in the driver's seat as they defeated Washington 27-20 in the final game. There it is, eight years of sectional play with Central classed as the "big gun."
