CLUB NEWS

The 1953 Album will sell for $3; a $1 deposit must be made to your home room Circulation representative to reserve your copy. Seniors must have reserved their copy by the middle of November.

Ushers. The Ushers Club has ushered for all the Adams home football games, in addition to help given at Riley and Central games. The South Bend Symphony and Civic Music are two important civic programs for which the club has ushered. The main job which was accomplished this fall was that of ushering for five sessions of the North Central Conference. As a result of that service, the North Central Association gave $10 to the Adams Ushers Club treasury. The club is anticipating a busy winter schedule with plans to usher for all Adams basketball games.

Debate. The main topic chosen for this year's Debate Club is "Internationalism vs. Isolationism." At the tryouts held Oct. 6 and Oct. 13 for membership in the Club, sixteen contestants gave qualification speeches on this subject. As a result of these tryouts, Bill Dean, Jim Dincolo, Nancy MacIvor, Pat Parker, and Joyce Sando have become new members.

Our Debate Club is now making plans to attend the Debaters Conference at Purdue University on Dec. 6 and 7.

Hi-Y. The Hi-Y is responsible for the freshly painted sign in the football field giving the '52-'53 Adams basketball schedule.

A crusade to send get-well cards to Adams students who are absent several days is being undertaken by the club. In connection with their "card campaign," this club has adopted the policy of sending birthday cards to Adams faculty members.

Y-Teens. The Adams Y-Teens are busy planning their initiation which will be held on Nov. 20 at the YWCA. New members, old members, and parents will attend a supper party in (Continued on Page Two)

"Get Acquainted" Luncheons Held

As tradition, a series of "get acquainted" potluck luncheons have been provided for the parents of the new 9B and 10B students of John Adams.

At the luncheons Mr. Rothermel and the P. T. A. officers hope to provide an opportunity for parents to become acquainted with the teacher who will be the home room counselor of their boy or girl during his stay at Adams, to offer information about the courses of study, extra-curricular activities, graduation requirements, scholarship opportunities, and attendance regulations, and to afford an opportunity for parents to ask questions pertaining to the school organization and its policies.

Mrs. W. D. Buchanan with the help of her committee is contacting parents for their reservations for luncheons on Tuesday, Nov. 18, and Thursday, Nov. 20.

Luncheons already have been held for some of the group on Nov. 11 and Nov. 12.

Library Service Resumed

The library is again being used exclusively for library service since study halls have been moved back to the cafeteria mezzanine. According to Miss Myrtle Moberg, librarian, an appointment book has been placed on the center desk where teachers may sign to make arrangements for a class to have a period in the library. This time may be used for laboratory or reference work.

Miss Moberg further stated that among the magazines are bound copies of the National Geographic, from 1922 to date, and Reader's Digest, from 1941 to date. There are new subscriptions of Holiday, Nation, and Outdoor Life. In addition to these, there are many reference books available for student use.

SANDERSON INDICTED; FACES MOCK TRIAL

At noon yesterday, Nov. 13, 1952 in the John Adams Little Theater play-girl Maris Kruck was shot and killed while eating her lunch. Dick Sanderson, who was seen running away from the crime with a gun by several witnesses, has been indicted for the crime by a Grand Jury composed of members from the fifth hour Civics class. Further details of the actual crime have not been given at this time.

The mock trial which will be sponsored by the fifth hour Civics class will be held during class period each day. The Judge will be the Honorable A. E. Goldsberry with Gloria Ankers as clerk. The Prosecuting Attorney will be Bob Stone assisted by Sylvia Moran and the Defense Attorney will be Dick Wallace aided by Dave Jones. The witnesses, jury, and the other jobs during the trial will be filled by the other members of the class.

WILL SHOW MOVIE

W. EMERSON SCOTT

W. Emerson Scott will present his motion picture adventure, "To the Arctic by Canoe," in an assembly, Nov. 21, at 12:45 p. m. Mr. Scott will elaborate on the highlights of his canoe trip into the wilds of the North, which covered over 5,000 miles, 200 miles above the Arctic Circle. In the motion picture are scenes of roaring rapids, Indian dances, a white whale hunt, a reindeer roundup, and the broad Mackenzie River.

Jerry Zinman, from the public speaking class, will introduce the speaker.

WITH MY COMPLIMENTS . . .

This business of writing editorials gets to be pretty tough, especially when I haven't the slightest idea of what to write about, and regardless of how much time I spend thinking it over, my mind remains a blank. This week was no exception. It was then suggested that an editorial about American Education Week, which was being observed November 9-15, would be very appropriate. A fine suggestion, but what was it all about? After reading a few magazines and newspaper articles, I became "educated" about this important week.

The 32nd American Education Week is observed for the purpose of giving the parents in the community a chance to visit the schools. The theme for this year's week, designed to give the communities an opportunity to review goals and accomplishments in education, is "Children In Today's World." A variety of programs including open house, panel discussions, demonstrations of school facilities offered to students, movies, and discussion groups, have been planned in schools throughout South Bend. A tea and vesper service was given for the teachers of South Bend, Mishawaka, and St. Joseph County in the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday, Nov. 9. This fourth annual event was sponsored by the Council of Churches of St. Joseph County in observance of the week.

The American public schools need the intelligent support of the parents. Urge your parents to visit school not only during this special week but other times throughout the year. Have them talk to your teachers and find out what the schools are trying to do for you and how they can best help you. The future citizens of tomorrow are the students of today.

Afterthoughts: Congratulations to Mr. John Murphy who has been appointed Civilian Defense Director for John Adams. . . . It is a pleasure to report that James Considine, a sophomore at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. and former editor The TOWER, has been chosen drum major of the Georgetown band and also of the Air Force band at the same University. Jim is anticipating the opportunity to participate in the Inaugural parade in January. . . . Thanks to all who participated in the impressive Armistice Day assembly. . . . Thanks to Mr. J. Gordon Nelson for a fine job as toastmaster at the football banquet Tuesday evening. . . . See you at the game next Thursday night—it's with Washington-Clay, you know.

DANGLING PHRASES IN MONTANA

I would like to tell you about a trip I took with my parents this summer. We watched the countryside of our beautiful nation riding in a train. We didn't get to bed until very late the first night, having stayed up to watch the beautiful sunset from the train window.

Finally three days' train traveling ended in Montana. We left the train exhausted. The first thing we did was to go to our hotel; however, we passed a delicatessen going down the street and stopped to get some sandwiches to take to the hotel.

When we arrived at the hotel, we started to straighten things up. Mom found a mouse unpacking her trunk and you should have heard her scream. Dad rolled up a newspaper and the little thing scurried from the room.

The next week was spent seeing many historical places in a tourist car. One day we rented a canoe and saw the remains of an Indian village floating down the river. After a while we landed the canoe to eat lunch. We decided to go hunting berries. We found the berries and many beautiful flowers prowling through the woods.

All in all we had a really wonderful vacation in Montana and are planning to take a trip next year to Colorado, sight-seeing from our own car.

New on our steady list are: Lorena Rose, Fred Laas; Barbara Jensen, Ray Loar; Susan Angus, Jim Riddle; Carole Kaughenour (Riley), Chet Busert.

Our deepest sympathies are extended to Paul Butler. Into each life a little rain must fall, even in the form of an election.

We notice that Tom McHenry has been seeing a lot of Pat Wilson lately.

Second hour Chemistry certainly has its mishaps. Trent Hilborn and Duane Hartz are champions in blowing up beakers.

Rumors are still flying about Portia Troyer (Riley) and our Eddie Thompson.

Mrs. Pate uses the Business Correspondence books more than the students do. She has decided to match drapes for the new Glee Club room to the cover of the B. C. book.

Congratulations to Dick Sessler. He gets around on his cane almost as well as without it.

We understand that Jane Peterson (Mishawaka) has been spending some time with Dick Sanderson.

Some people carry no books, others carry them in strange fashions. Bob Bock is an authority on the latter manner.

Pody Shafer is quite a lucky girl. She has two fellows to choose from. Variety is the spice of life, you know.

Nancy Loesmond must surely like to wear gloves. She wears them when cheering and even when asleep. Wonder why?!

Last week's Sadie Hawkins dance brought out quite a few who tripped the light fantastic: Sandra Moritz, Paul Butler; Nancy Loesmond, Joe Kline (N.D.); Joyce Swingendorf, Johnny McMeel (C.C.); Joyce Balko, Tom McNulty; Karol Hudson, Dick Shenenberger (Western Michigan); Pat Holland, Joe McMann (N.D.); Marilyn Moran, Don Everett (C.C.); Nancy Habart, George Drummey (C.C.); Emalu Palm, Tom McHenry.

honor of the initiates. After supper and a songfest, Miss Evelyn Noxel, a leader in YWCA activities, will speak on the meaning of the Y-Teens membership and the good results which come from steady club attendance. Miss Noxel will then lead a solemn candlelight service which has replaced the social initiation of previous years.

Screen Club. The Screen Club has continued its school services by training operators to run the projection machines in any class. Their meetings are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month and the present project under consideration is that of buying corduroy club jackets.

MY! HOW THE TIME GOES BY!

'Tis said that tempus fugit; in fact, it fugit like made. We had best get wise to Father Time's hasty ways and devise a time budget before there is no more time to spend.

As in math, there are "constants" in our lives, and they can't be changed. The constants include time spent at school, time used in going to school and returning home, outside jobs, extra-curricular activities, and sleep. Sleep is the thing most people borrow, but few repay. Eight hours is a good average for most people, but those of us who need ten or more should plan accordingly.

Plan your time chart to show the ratio of time spent in all activities. Be sure to be realistic, and avoid dreaming of the way you'd like to live. Set aside study periods, and then study whichever subjects have been assigned for that day. Be sure to include time for all your own personal habits, and leave a little time for additions to your routine. Don't forget trips to the drugstore, incoming and outgoing phone calls and letters, home duties, jaunts to the library, week-end dates, games, family recreation, and a lot of other items which you will remember as you use the time chart. When the plan is completed, you should feel that you will have time to kill. You'll soon find ways to kill it.

JR. CABINET FORMED

The Junior class, under the sponsorship of Mr. A. T. Krider, has chosen a cabinet to work with the class officers. Two students from each of the home rooms were selected as members of this planning group. They are: 105, Fred Cowgill, Virginia Campbell; 109, Sharon DeRose, Norman Grimshaw; 202, Beverly Seymour, David Engle; 203, Sally Kissinger, Robert Johnson; 205, Nancy Miller, James Miller; Drafting room, Sally Stoops, Robert Shields.

Mr. Ted High, our new assistant band director, graduated from our own John Adams. Afterward he attended Ball State Teachers College, where he received his Bachelor's degree in music appreciation. He taught privately during the summer in Muncie, and this fall he returned to South Bend to teach instrumental music at Adams, Kaley, Nuner, Linden, and Marquette. Mr. High has had some semi-professional experience in playing with the Muncie Symphony, the Gary Symphony, the National Guard Band, and the South Bend Symphony.

Mr. High thinks his alma mater "real fine," and feels that we are particularly fortunate in having such a fine new building. He likes to play his trombone and enjoys getting together with high school people for parties. His favorite dance band is Stan Kenton and his favorite orchestras are the Philadelphia, Boston, and NBC Symphonies.

Mr. High dislikes people who are so prejudiced that they will not open their minds to suggestion. He plans to make teaching music his life work and we are very glad to have him start his career here.

Welcome back, Mr. High. We hope you'll stay with us a long time.

BURNS TO ATTEND PURDUE CONFERENCE

All Indiana principals or guidance counselors with freshman students represented at Purdue University have been invited to attend the first High School Principal-Purdue Freshman Conference on Wednesday, Nov. 19. Miss Burns will represent John Adams at the conference.

The program has been designed to help principals, freshmen, and faculty members in the area of high school-college transition. Those attending the conference will meet with their former students, now attending Purdue, and will receive progress reports for these students in each subject.

There also will be a session in which the assembly will split into discussion groups. At this time the principals or counselors may relate the information and criticism they received during their meeting with former students to the Purdue staff members. Staff members may suggest ways in which prospective Purdue freshman may be helped in their high school preparation.

'B' TEAM BETTERS '51 W-L RECORD

The "B" team rounded out their 1952 football season with a tie with Elkhart. The Eagles bettered their last year's mark with a record of three wins, one tie, and four losses, as compared to last year's record of one win and six losses.

The Eagles scored four touchdowns and converted twice for a total of 28 points, this also includes two points which they received due to a forfeit with LaPorte. Their opponents scored 79 points against them.

Credit for the touchdowns go to Selig on a 55-yard pass from Beiser, Lowman on a 35-yard pass from Johnson and a 55-yard pass from Goldsberry, and a 90-yard run by Wygant. Credit for both conversions goes to Cecil Robbins.

Regulars on the squad were: Rodgers, Fisher, Elliot, Ball, Root, Quimby, Sonneborn, Shipley, J. Shaw, Halpin, J. Carlson, Loman, Corban, Johnson, Snyder, Wygant, Beiser, Robbins, and Naftzger.

A complete season record:

	Opp.	Adams
Riley	26	0
Washington	14	7
Washington-Clay	13	0
Michigan City	0	6
LaPorte	0	2
Mishawaka	7	0
Central	13	7
Elkhart	6	6

—Joe Rich.

words with wallace

We have come to the end of a fairly successful varsity football season, that is, for John Adams it was a fairly successful season. Our 3 won, 6 lost season marks our best since 1949 when we had a 5 won, 4 lost record, and it also marks the first time we have been out of the conference cellar in 3 years.

In my opinion, this year may be remembered as the turning point of Adams gridiron fortunes. If you watched practice you saw something different this year. You saw a bigger Adams team both in number of boys and in size than heretofore. You saw a well-conditioned team as proved by the playing times of the boys who played. There were many members of the team who played both offense and defense in this day of two platoon football.

There was also a big freshman team this year. Working out as a unit they prepared for the next few years when they would be part of the Adams varsity. This team was coached with the idea in mind of building up Adams football to a place where we are considered an opponent to fear rather than a breather. In the past Adams has been considered a pushover by the schools in this area especially the South Bend schools. Under the present plan it will probably be about two or three years before things get rolling but when they do you can bet there will be an improvement in the play of the Adams Eagles.

Coach Murphy figures on taking a squad of 35 or 40 freshmen each year and working with them the next three years developing the nucleus of the team from them. With these seniors as the nucleus of the team, plus the juniors and sophomores who show promise, the Eagles will be consistently stronger. I feel that if this system is given a chance to work that it will only be a matter of time until we are a respected team.

Possibly the best game the Eagles played this year was in their losing effort at Mishawaka. The Eagles were in the game practically all the way, the score being just 19-14 in favor of Mishawaka late in the game. The worst game was, in my opinion, the Fort Wayne, South Side game where the Eagles lost 26-7.

Playing their last game in an Adams uniform on November 1 against South Side were Chet Bussert, captain, Dick Shaw, Pat McKeon, Jack Thomas, Bob Berta, Louis Finch, Leslie Selig, and Herb Goodin. Also graduating is Dick Sessler, whose last game was against Niles in which he encountered a fractured leg.

RECAP ON SUCCESSFUL FRESHMAN SEASON

The John Adams Freshman football team have had a fairly successful season this fall. The freshmen were in a see-saw league which had not a team who couldn't beat the others in the league on a given day. To illustrate this point, our freshmen were the only team to beat Michigan City. This was a season in which one bounce of the pigskin could decide a game. A complete record of the season follows:

	Opp.	Adams
Mishawaka	6	7
Central	13	0
Washington	19	6
Michigan City	0	6
Elkhart	7	20
Riley	13	13
LaPorte	14	6

Summary: 3 wins, 3 losses, 1 tie.
