'SHARE THEIR FARE' DRIVE ANNOUNCED

So now you know what all those mysterious signs are about, what that big map at the Four Corners represents, and what "Share Their Fare" means. These sixteen days between United Nations Day and Veterans' Day (that's Armistice Day with a new moniker) are for the Student Council's drive to bring a foreign student to our hallowed halls next year. If we have a teenager from another country at Adams, that makes us eligible to send some of our students abroad in the American Field Service Summer Program.

At the assembly Monday, the stock-selling plan was explained. The twenty-five cent shares will be sold by Student Council members. See your Council representatives, "Share Their Fare," and get the ship (at the Four Corners) across the ocean!

Australian Girl To Be Guest Speaker

Miss Shirley Duncan, an Australian girl, will be the guest speaker at an assembly on Wednesday, Nov. 3. She will tell about the bicycle trip which she took through Australia. Her intelligence, personal charm, and sense of humor made the impossible possible.

Rex Heads Picture Staff

Larry Rex, a senior, heads the photography staff for the 1955 Album. He will be assisted by the following juniors: James Kubiak, Patrick McNamara, and David Koto.

Indiana Scholarship Tests Scheduled

The Indiana Scholarship testing program is open to seniors in all high schools in Indiana. The purpose is to make selections for scholarships. To be eligible to compete in these tests, an individual should rank high in his graduating class.

There are 26 co-operating colleges in Indiana. The student indicates his first choice college and the results are then sent to that college. If the results are of excellent caliber, the person will be sent a scholarship blank and will participate in any further qualifying activities of the college.

Each college and university has its own scholarship program. The value of the scholarships vary with the different colleges and universities.

The test will be given Friday, Dec. 10, at John Adams. The time and place will be announced later. A fee of 25 cents will be charged each person. All interested should register in the guidance office by October 31, and must pay the fee at that time.

Last year 8,797 seniors in the state of Indiana took the test. They were from 687 high schools. In St. Joseph county 379 students took the test, about 52 of which were Adams seniors.

For further details either write the Chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the college or university of your choice or consult the bulletins in the guidance office.

Open House To Be Held

John Adams is holding its annual Open House on Wednesday, Nov. 3, from 7:15 to 9:35 p.m. The student's schedule will be followed by the parents, and the course of study will be presented by each teacher.

Enclosed with the student's schedule, which will be sent to the parents, will be a Parent Teachers Association membership blank.

Parents interested in joining the P. T. A. may contact the home room mother the night of November 3.

CIVICS CLASSES HOLD MOCK CONGRESS

During the past few weeks, Mr. Goldsberry's fourth and fifth hour civics classes have been organized into a mock Congress. The fourth hour class acted as the Senate and the fifth hour was the House of Representatives.

Congress convened on Wednesday, Oct. 6. A bill concerning the wearing of Adams colors on game days was introduced in the Senate. A Ways and Means Committee was appointed to look over the bill and add any amendments they felt necessary. After being passed back and forth between the two houses, the bill was unanimously accepted by Congress. The clerk then took the bill to President Rothermel who signed his approval. The bill stated that every civics class member must wear the colors red and blue, in the form of pins, ribbons, or monogram sweaters, on all days of basketball and football games. In case of a Saturday game, the colors must be worn on the preceding day. If someone forgets his colors, a punishment is to be inflicted. The punishment will be to sing a song chosen by Mr. Goldsberry in front of the class.

The purpose of this project was to learn the procedures of the United States Congress and at the same time to promote better school spirit.

J. Waechter, M. Anderson, W. Waechter Elected

Donald Smith is the Class of '55's new president. Other officers elected by senior class members are John Waechter, vice president; Mary Ann Anderson, secretary; and William Waechter, treasurer. On October 20, 225 out of the 241 seniors used the school's voting machine to select these leaders.

The election climaxed a two weeks' campaign which included petition signing, poster making, and a convention. Any senior who got twenty-five of his classmates' signatures on his petition and filed it with class sponsor Mrs. Hazel McClure, acting clerk, was eligible to run. James Dincolo and Richard Green were the other candidates for president. Anne Bruner and Carl Long, vice president; Mary Kline, Nancy MacIvor, and Mary Ellen Rosenthal, secretary; and Steve Brannan, Richard Gibboney, and Naomi Ross, treasurer, also had their names on the ballot.

Arrangements were made by the Senior Cabinet for the convention which was held Monday evening, Oct. 18, in the Little Theater. Mr. Alonzo Goldsberry was chairman of the event where each candidate made a speech stating his qualifications, his platform, and his "if-I'm-elected" promises. A parade around the convention hall accompanied by poster waving and music by the senior band members followed each campaign talk.

CIVITAN CLUB TO HOLD HALLOWEEN DANCE

By MARY ELLEN ROSENTHAL

While attending the Civitan Club dinner last week with Jim Dincolo and Charmian Burke, I became aware of the wonderful work the Civitan Club is doing for the teen-agers of South Bend and the entire country.

Tonight, from 8 to 12 p.m. in the Indiana Club, the Civitan Club of South Bend is presenting its annual Halloween Dance for all St. Joseph county teenagers in grades 9 through 12.

With all the talk about a curfew in South Bend, juvenile delinquency, and "nothing to do in this town," let's show everyone we really appreciate what's being done for us. If we give terrific response to this dance, others will take notice and help the South Bend kids.

During the Halloween Season, remember the true meaning of Halloween. It isn't a time to go out and stir up trouble. It is the eve of a religious holiday, All Saints Day. Try to think of it in the same way you think of Christmas Eve. You don't think of vandalism that night, so why should you on Halloween?

You received pledge cards in your home rooms this week. Sign them and bring them with you to the dance. Although you will not be refused admission if you don't sign, it will be to your advantage to do so. At 9:00, 10:00, 11:00 and 11:30, drawings will be made by Adams, Central, Riley, and Washington representatives respectively. Two ladies' and two men's wrist watches and four radios will be given as prizes. Rosebud corsages will be given away at the door and free cokes will be available.

IT DOESN'T PAY TO WORRY

"Your assignment for Monday, class, is to find a subject that you are interested in and get some information on your choice. Then on Monday we will collaborate on our ideas and prepare talks from our information." The bell rang.

Sally slowly picked up her chemistry and French books and made her way to the door. What an assignment! Is that all that teachers can find to do, to be mean? All the teachers knew that she could never find a subject that she was interested enough in to talk in front of her English class about.

After sixth hour she went to the Library as though she knew what she was looking for. She opened up an encyclopedia with a C on the outside. She didn't know why she picked out the C book, but she guessed that it was nearest and she was tired around 3:15 usually.

"Caesar, camping, Canada, China, coal," she murmured as the librarian looked at her over the rims of her glasses.

How in the world could she ever find a subject she knew enough about and that everyone, at least someone, would like and a subject that the teacher would think was good?

All the way home she thought. Maybe she could be sick Monday and then she wouldn't have to plan for her speech. Or maybe she could be sick on the day she was to give the speech. But if she did that she would get a zero for that week. Why did a girl that never hurt a teacher in her life get into such a spot on account of one?

Homework never seemed to bother Sally very much. She didn't spend much time at it but she got along with B's and C's. The only thing about homework that really set her back was a speech. How horrible! The mere word made her stomach jump.

There was going to be a football game that night and it was a big one. She had planned to go with a bunch of kids and then there was going to be a party afterwards at one of the girls' houses. But she thought that she would stay home. She certainly didn't feel like going to a game now and yelling her head off. When she knew she had something to think about and something to organize, she couldn't concentrate on anything until it was complete. She didn't know why, but that was the way she was. Sorta queer, she thought sometimes. But her mother was the same way. This thing heredity can be a nuisance.

Little things are said to mean a lot, and in this case they did. As you know, she never worried about her school work, especially on weekends. But a speech at the beginning of the week was too much.

At dinner she never said a thing. She didn't even tell her parents what was the matter. They would give her some ideas that she couldn't use anyway, so why bother them.

Even while she was getting ready to go to the game she thought. She spent almost all her time now thinking about it. What a waste of time.

At the game she couldn't concentrate on the plays. Her team was way ahead anyway and she wasn't too interested. She looked around her at the people. All different kinds of people and faces caught her eyes.

All of a sudden she had an idea! A wonderful idea! Why couldn't she make her speech on the different kinds of people that you could see at a high school football game. There could be many ideas that she could concoct out of her head and she wouldn't have to use an encyclopedia.

Did she ever feel better! All of a sudden the game took on a new interest for her. She followed each play with new interest. She didn't have anything to worry her anymore.

Sally realized that it doesn't pay to worry about something as much as she did. Ideas sort of come to you when you are least expecting them, so let them come. She found her solution without even trying.

The Student Council Speaks

The Student Council, besides carrying on the main business of the school, is working behind the scenes. All the representatives to the Council have a two-fold duty. First, they take part in the general council meetings on Thursday morning, and second they go to their various committee meetings. The Council is subdivided into committees, from the School Welfare Committee to the Coronation Ball Committee, covering every phase of school activities. The Assembly Committee is one of these sub-divisions.

The Assembly Committee does just what its name implies. It plans all the assemblies that are presented at Adams with the exception of pep assemblies. The committee, along with Mrs. Hazel McClure, Mrs. Lawrence T. Pate, Miss Gwendolyn Kaczmarek, Mr. Cecil Deardorff, and Mr. Russell Rothermel, checks through the reams of material that is received, trying to pick assemblies that will be beneficial. It is the policy of the committee to pick assemblies on the merit of their educational values rather than for pure entertainment.

The council invites all students to come down to the Little Theater on Thursday mornings at 8:00 and visit the general meetings and committee meetings to see the student government in action.

Nancy MacIvor Chosen 'Best Girl Scientist' In State of Indiana

At this year's meeting of the Junior Academy of Science held on October 16 in the Purdue University Memorial Union Building, Nancy MacIvor was chosen best girl scientist in the state of Indiana on the merits of her paper on the "Artificial Parthenogenesis," the development of bull frog eggs without fertilization. Bob Fassnacht from South Bend Central was chosen best boy scientist in Indiana. Both he and Nancy were chosen by a science committee and interviewed. Five hundred young scientists from science clubs throughout the state attended. Forty students from Adams traveled by bus to the meeting.

The meeting was presided over by James Dincolo, president, and Janet Golba, vice-president, officers for this year. The officers elected for 1955 are as follows: Robert Conway (Shortridge High School, Indianapolis), president; Paul Justus (Elmer's High School, Fort Wayne), vice-president; Lou Ann Snyder (Howe High School, Howe), secretary.

The Junior Academy of Science at Adams is sponsored by the Junior Walton Club. Mr. Ernest Litweiler is club sponsor.

As part of the South Bend recreation program, there will be square dancing each Monday from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the Adams Little Theatre.

Dances will be open to teenagers and adults and the admission is free. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barnes will be the callers.

The first dance will be Monday, November 1.

Adamites are buzzing about: a ver-r-r-rainy hayride two weeks ago today, those unfortunate auto accidents that plagued Adams two week ends ago, the "beautiful dry" weather we had for the Adams-Central tilt, curfew, curfew, and more curfew, that welcome vacation last week, and those mysterious Student Council signs seen about school!

Why has Jim Kanouse been wearing those fly-away shirts lately? We'll be more than happy to sew on any missing buttons, Jess.

On the current dateline we find: Bob Vargo and Nancy Hunt (Central), Marilyn Mueller and Jack Coppens (Central), Marilyn Schwanz and Jim Leighty, Jim Warner and Marlene Clark (Central), Lucille Heierman and Fred Heddens, Mary Benn and Dick Neitpalski (St. Joe), and Ursula Ries and Mort Dobbins.

Who was Gwen Garwood knitting those beer-mug socks for? The initials on them were J. E.

Please note these dates of late: Glenda Hackett and Harry Winters, Marsha Root and Bob Andreae (Mishawaka alum.), Roberta Leipertz and Tony Schmeltz (Walkerton) and Jackie Hackett and John Rogers (New Carlisle).

Seen on that rainy hayride: Bill Walton and Peggy Rieser (Riley), Tom Henson and Francis Dunfee (St. Joe), Bill McNab and Nancy Whitlock (St. Joe), and Larry Smith and Dee Ann Daub (Riley).

Sharon Smith, hear tell, was visiting her "Jake" at Great Lakes last week-end.

Joyce Perkins, is it true you have your eye on that red-headed contemporary of yours, Mike Phillips?

Wedding bells will chime in the not-too-distant future for Carol Woodall and Dick Swayzee; Barbara Jensen and Ray Loar; and Karen Runyan and Dick Shireman.

Happy anniversary to Nancy Champaigne and Jack MacMillan. They'll have gone steady exactly a year November 5.

A lonely gal on week-ends lately is Kay Oedekerck. Seems that Dick Bavin (Riley) prefers fishing to her. Ah! Cruel fate!

"I'll Be Seeing You" said "Marie" to her "Friends and Neighbors" and to her "Little Mama". She was going "South" "In a Little Spanish Town". "Here" she felt like a "Stranger in Paradise". She met "Johnny" who was a "Little Shoemaker". He did the "Bunny Hop" and the "Hokey Pokey", but soon "They Were Doing the Mambo". They dropped "Three Coins in the Fountain", and soon people were "Whispering" "More Than Ever". She said "Thank You for Calling", but I know that I've been "Jilted". "I'm a Fool to Care", but "Adios" and please "Don't Forget to Write".

EAGLE OF THE WEEK

Our Eagle of the week could very well be called "Mr. President." We all know him by the name Jim Dincolo. This 6' 2", 185-lb. senior is at home in room 112. Jim is a leader in many outside clubs as well as school activities. He is president of Drama Club, Glee Club, Junior Isaac Waltons, past state president of the Junior Academy of Science, social chairman of Hi-Y, a member of the Debate team and a Student Council representative. He has also played numerous parts in Drama Club productions. Besides all these activities he is president of the Junior Presbyterian Players, a member of the Catholic Theater Guild, and on the board of directors of the Junior National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Jim considers his most enjoyable experience at Adams that of being able to get Mr. Krider to say "that's good." His pet peeve is Bermuda shorts ('nuff said). The qualities he admires most in a person are those of friendliness and honesty. Jim likes to spend his spare time reading, eating, and listening to music. In the musical line he prefers the blues, his favorite being "St. Louie Blues," recorded by Louie Armstrong. Roast beef with mashed potatoes, smothered in gravy heads his list of preferred foods. "Dinc" likes to see a girl dressed in a light blue sweater and charcoal skirt. When asked about his favorite subjects he had this to say, "I get a large charge out of them all." After graduation he plans to enter Harvard where he will study law. As to his opinion of going steady, he believes it's nice work if you can get it.

Central Visits Council

Three members of Central's Student Council were visitors to an Adams Council meeting on Thursday, October 14. Nancy DuMont, secretary; Joanne Beahm, treasurer; and Robert Govers, vice-president, watched the workings of our governing body. After the meeting they were served a "second breakfast" in the lunchroom and were given a "Grand Tour" of the building by our Council officers.

Wouldn't it be Strange if

We could talk in the Library?
There was no attendance taken?
Carl Long didn't have a toothpick in his mouth?
There had been no soap in the showers after the Adams-Central game?
There were fifteen minute passing periods?
The girls could wear levis to school?
Bob Walker didn't wear those flashy shirts?
There was no such thing as going steady?
Mr. Crowe had laryngitis?
Lynn Wickizer and Jim Kanouse had never heard of Roy Hamilton?

American Education Week

The thirty-fourth Annual Observance of American Education Week will be held November 7 - 13 this year.

For over half a century the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the National Education Association have worked together for the welfare of our children and youth. The U. S. Office of Education and the American Legion have also helped to sponsor American Education Week.

Every year a new theme is chosen for this special week, dedicating it to our schools. This year the general theme is "Good Schools Are Your Responsibility".

There are many ways to emphasize American Education Week. Each year plays are given, radio scripts are recorded, movies are shown and publicity items are distributed throughout the cities. John Adams will hold its annual Open House for parents and friends on Wednesday, November 3, in observance of American Education Week.

EAGLES HOST BLAZERS TOMORROW

Game Time 8:00 P. M.

Tomorrow night the Eagle eleven will host Elkhart at School Field. This will be both teams' sixth and final conference game. The Blazers have a league record of one win, three losses, and one tie while Adams boasts a record of 3 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie.

The two teams have met five times before with Elkhart winning three (1946, 1950, 1953) and Adams winning one (1945). The game played in 1951 ended in a 6-6 tie.

If Washington loses to No. Side tonight and Adams wins, the Panthers will drop to third place in the conference, and we will move up to second.

Adams Ties Central

Adams sloshed to a 13-13 tie with Central before a meager 2,000 in rain swept School Field on October 16. Nearly 24 hours of rain, which stopped just before game time, turned the field into a quagmire.

Central scored both touchdowns in the first quarter when Dan Matthews scored from the Adams 6, and Otha Lake went over from the 1, seven plays after Central recovered an Eagle fumble on Adams' 37 yard line. Because of the condition of the field, both teams ran the points after touchdown. The Bears failed to make their first conversion but were successful on the second.

The game changed in the second half with Adams controlling the ball 70% of the time and scoring both their tallies in the fourth quarter. The Eagles marched 65 yards for their first score which was climaxed

Netmen Close Season

On Tuesday, October 12, the tennis team traveled to Elkhart and closed the season successfully by edging the Blazers 3 to 2. This gave the netmen a final record of four wins and four losses.

Chuck Christman and Dick Green, playing in the number 2 and number 3 spots, won their singles matches, but Dave Freedburg dropped his number 1 singles. This gave Adams a 2 to 1 lead. Green and Christman then won the number 2 doubles to insure a victory for the Eagles.

Reserves Win; Then Lose

In their last two games, the "B" squad pounded out a 26 to 6 victory over Elkhart and lost to Washington 12 to 6. The reserves record is now 2-3-1 with one game remaining.

Bud Goddard led the scoring at Elkhart with 13 points. Beery Grady and Dick Szabo each scored one touchdown and Don Severeid made an extra point. The Eagle defense starred as Elkhart failed to register a first down against the starting eleven. The Blazers' lone score came on a 35-yard run.

Against Washington, Bud Goddard scored Adams' 6 points with a 78-yard jaunt.

X-Country Team Runs Last Three Meets

Adams cross country team finished their season by participating in the City, Conference, and Sectional Meets. The City meet, held on Erskine Golf Course, was won by Riley. Valparaiso was the scene of the Conference meet. Riley also won this meet. The Sectional meet was run on Eberhart Golf Course and was won by Mishawaka.

In the City meet Riley's Overmeyer and Jackson captured the first places. This enabled the Wildcats to defeat Central 21-48 and Adams 21-70. Ferguson of Central took third place and Pete Smith took fourth.

Riley also won the Conference meet by defeating 20 other teams. They were followed by Lew Wallace, North Side, and Mishawaka. Adams came in 14th out of 21 teams that participated. Lubs of LaPorte won the meet with a record time for the course of 10:00.3.

Mishawaka won the Sectional meet on their home course. They nosed out Riley, Michigan City, and Warsaw. The Eagles came in 12th out of 15 teams. Lubs also won this meet and he was followed by Williams of Mishawaka.

Gridmen Blast City

By defeating Michigan City 32-6, the John Adams Eagles moved into undisputed third place in the ENIHSC. The Eagles now have a conference record of 3-1-1 and a 5-1-1 over all record. City has yet to win a conference tilt.

Adams took little time to get acquainted with City's Ames Field, as Billy Baird scored the Eagles first touchdown eight plays after the opening kickoff.

The second quarter was less than three minutes old when Larry VanDusen broke loose for a 33 yard touchdown jaunt. Robbins again added the extra point. Later in the quarter VanDusen broke loose for 54 yards and a TD, but the play was nullified by a clipping penalty. Five plays later Vandy got his touchdown on a 19 yard run. Robbins conversion attempt was wide and the score at the half was 20-0.

John Robbins scored from the two after a sustained drive of 83 yards. During the drive VanDusen had another touchdown called back because of a clipping penalty. The Eagles last tally came via a 35 yard run by Berry Grady. In desperation the Red Devils took to the air and a pass from Schlegelmuch to Holmes produced City's only score. The extra point attempt failed.
