TALKS RELATE CLUB PROGRAM OF ADAMS

To solve the dilemma, "Which clubs at Adams should I join?" the John Adams Student Council, under the leadership of Wes Rachels, has once again sponsored the freshman orientation program on clubs. Sessions of speakers were held on Tuesday mornings during guidance period. These sessions for the freshmen have been held on February 26, and March 5 and 12 in the Little Theater.

At the beginning of the new semester, Wes asked presidents and heads of the Adams clubs to talk to the freshmen about the extra-curricular activities.

For the boys, Bob Mitchell, Monogram Club; Don Rowe, Hi-Y; and Lance Hanna, Ushers Club; spoke about their clubs. Mary McNamara, Girls' Recreation; and Anita Walter, Y-Teens; spoke to the girls on the organizations for girls only.

For the dramatic and musical minded, John Ross explained the Drama Club, and Hal King talked about the Glee Club. June Verhostra told the freshmen about the band and orchestra. Ron Miller explained the functions of the Debate Club.

Freshmen who are interested in books and writing listened as Joan Jacobs spoke about the school newspaper, the TOWER; Carol Hertel explained the yearbook, the ALBUM; Dixie Frost told about the Library Club; and Dave Mickelson spoke on the Stamp Club.

The vocational clubs, Future Nurses and Future Teachers, were explained by Nancy Thompson and Julie Ebeling, respectively.

Community and school service ideas were presented to the freshmen by Sue Welber, representing the Junior Roundtable of the National Conference of Christians and Jews; Bob Ziker, Booster Club; John Davis, Junior Waltons; Dan Hoyt, Junior Red Cross Council; and Bob Wetter, Screen Club.

Measurements for Caps And Gowns March 20

Seniors of the graduating class of 1957 will be measured for their cap and gowns for graduation on Wednesday, March 20. The measurements will be taken in the boys' athletic office starting at 8:00 a.m., and all seniors should have their measurements taken as soon as possible that morning. If any senior will be unable to have his measurements taken at that time, please make arrangements with Mr. George E. Carroll before March 20.

Demonstrator from Vogue Patterns Gives Fashion Pointers

Wednesday, March 6, was a red-letter day for the home economics students. The day was special for them because Miss Patricia Crowley of the Vogue Pattern Company came to John Adams to present her program of "Fashion on the Go." This demonstration is designed to show students the fashion approach to sewing by aiding them in the correct selection of line and color, good grooming, and accessory coordination.

Miss Crowley related that clothes should be selected according to the basic styles. From this point in a wardrobe, additional styles may be chosen to complete the selections.

The important factor to consider in sewing is one's own proper line. After a person realizes just what line is best for oneself, it is fairly easy to select the best pattern suited for his personality. It is a fact that a person's personality is reflected in his selection of clothes.

Miss Crowley pointed out that a soft color and line is best for a short person and that a tall person should wear a bright blanket-plaid or some bright color. The average person, in height and weight, doesn't have too many worries fashion-wise as she can wear almost any outfit that happens to be the fad. If short girls want to look taller, they should wear a pin or have a point of interest at the neckline of the dress. The tall girl who wants to look shorter should make a break of color or style at about the waistline of her outfit or have a definite point of interest at that place.

Some tips for dressing that will interest you girls are: don't get carried away by the use of jewelry. Two pieces of a set are enough to wear, you don't have to put the necklace, earrings and bracelet on at the same time. Self-belts (belts made of the same fabric as used in the dress) can be used to advantage in certain styles of outfits, to create certain effects, or to give the appearance of the dress being a two-piece outfit.

Forecasts by the Vogue Company for this spring are that polka dots are going to be good for accessory wear with suits and that vivid fresh fruit colors, such as raspberry or cherry red, will be the colors for this spring.

Miss Crowley spent the week in South Bend giving demonstrations to the high school home economics classes in this area.

One Week Remains for Korean Orphan Drive

"Pennies for Peace" is one way you can help to promote better relations between American youth and youth in poverty stricken countries.

The Korean Orphan Drive, this year sloganized, "Pennies for Peace," offers an opportunity for each and every Adams student to help support or "adopt" an orphan in Korea. The drive, which is being held from March 13 to March 22, is sponsored each year by the Student Council and this year is headed by Linda Rogers.

A "piggy" bank as an indicator has been placed in each homeroom by the council, and one paper penny is put on the bank for every dollar contributed to this worthy cause. The goal of each homeroom has been set at fifteen dollars which the council hopes will net a total of $360. This amount will support two orphans for one year.

An assembly was held on March 13 to better acquaint the students with this year's drive. Joe Anthony, a sixteen-year-old Korean boy, who is now living in Illinois, was the guest speaker. Shirley Norton was mistress of ceremonies.

One week remains for the drive, and the Student Council will appreciate all contributions.

PURDUE HIGH SCHOOL DAY MARCH 30

This is just a reminder for those of the seniors who plan to attend the annual High School Day at Purdue University in West Lafayette, Indiana, on March 30, that they should register with Miss Agnes Burns in the guidance office as soon as possible if they haven't already done so.

Tentative plans for the day include registration from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. in the Union Building lobby at which time free donuts and milk will be served. Then there will be a general meeting followed by university school sessions in the various fields. The visitors will be the guests of the university for lunch which will be served in the residence halls.

In the afternoon, the high school students will be entertained by the Purdue All-American Band in the Hall of Music. Then Professor A. R. Spalding will speak on "Academic Responsibility." A student panel on Purdue will be held, and then the visitors will again be entertained, this time by the Varsity Glee Club.

This is an excellent opportunity for those interested in Purdue to become acquainted with the university and its policies.

SPRING MUSICAL TO BE PRESENTED ON MARCH 28 & 29

"A Waltz Dream" by Oscar Straus, the spring musical, to be presented by the John Adams Glee Club and Drama Club on March 28 and 29, will be directed by Mr. James L. Casaday and Mrs. Lawrence T. Pate. Mr. William Brady, sponsor of the Drama Club, is the coordinator. Miss Helen Bodine has been engaged as the pianist. The John Adams orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Ronald Walton, will furnish the accompaniment for the musical.

"A Waltz Dream" could not be presented without the help of many others who carry responsibilities behind the scenes. The P. T. A. mothers, with Mrs. W. F. Shotola and Mrs. F. C. Jacobs in charge, are making two hundred costumes. Miss Annajane Puterbaugh is in charge of the wardrobe. Student accompanists are Carol Weldy and Janet Rawles, and student directors are Gayle Heyn and Carol Schiller. Lighting is being handled by Mr. Paul Reber, ushers by Mr. Volney Weir, and printing by Mr. Charles Bonham. Drama Club chairmen and their committees are as follows: Ronald Weaver, sets; John Ross, properties; and Mary Horning, make-up. Michael Stowers is production manager, and David Brownell is stage manager. Publicity is being handled by Beth Ryan and Sandy Weldy.

General admission tickets are available and can be obtained from any Drama Club member or Glee Club member for fifty cents each. Again this year, the Senior Glee Club will have a contest between the "Americans" headed by Judy Matteson and David Hartenbower, and the "Viennese" headed by Pat Barker and Duane LaMar. Members of the P.T.A. are selling reserved tickets for one dollar each.

Honor Society to Hold Induction March 21

The Adams National Honor Society will hold its second semester induction of candidates on Thursday, March 21, in the auditorium at 8:35 a.m. At that time five per cent of the senior class and five per cent of the junior class or approximately twenty-four students will be inducted into the society. The candidates will be elected by the faculty on the basis of their scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

After the induction, the inductees and their parents will be honored at a tea in the cafeteria given by the Honor Society.

Pennies for Peace

As we students of the John Adams go about our daily routines of eating, learning, working and playing, the biggest share of us are unaware of the poverty, filth, and illiteracy that is present in our modern day world. As we struggle down into our nice warm beds in the evening, or sit down to a well-balanced meal, we are undaunted by the living conditions in poverty and war stricken areas. It is the purpose of our annual Korean Orphan Drive to aid these areas and especially the children who are left homeless and orphaned by the dreadful consequences of war.

Every year, for the past three years, Adams has been host to the Korean Orphan Drive. The contributions of the students help pay for the clothing, board, food and school supplies of a Korean orphan for a total of one year. Last year the contributions were generous enough to support four orphans. This program is carried on through the Foster Parents of America Agency.

It is our hope that the drive this year will be as successful as in the previous years, and the only way this can be so is through your contributions. Just remember, the five or ten pennies you pay for a candy bar or a pack of gum might well pay for the meal of an underprivileged orphan. Give your pennies to help promote peace and a general well being among the inhabitants of the world.

Symptoms of Spring Become Prominent

Symptoms denoting that spring is on its way are beginning to appear at Adams. You have all heard the saying, "In the spring, a young man's fancy turns to romance," or one similar to it. This may very well hold true at Adams, but there are also other tell-tale signs that spring is well on its way.

Most of the boys have a big welcome for spring. The baseball, golf, and track coaches and teams are beginning to organize and will soon start practicing for the winning streaks and conference titles which they are going to win for Adams Eagles this spring.

The juniors have almost completed the arrangements for their annual Stardust Cafe which will be held April 26. The seniors will begin to go on their sociology trips to Chicago starting next Friday. They are also eagerly awaiting graduation and anticipating all the merry-making and seriousness of senior activities such as the prom and parties of senior prom weekend, the senior picnic, and, last but not least, graduation exercises. They also have a new interest — post graduation plans. Among their worries are, "What college should I choose from those which have accepted me?" and "Will I like my new job after I graduate?"

The faraway look in a girl's eyes as she gazes out the classroom window is referred to as one of two things. If she is an underclassman, she has "spring fever." If she is a senior, she is possessed with "senioritis." Her thoughts turn to the dress she wants for the prom, when to start wearing her new spring cottons, and her date for the prom.

Home work begins to be sadly neglected, but not just out of pure laziness. It just seems so much nicer to go to a ball game or to go out on such a nice night instead of staying at home to study.

Of course, we can't forget some of the less pleasant things about the coming of spring such as rainy days, sinus headaches, and final exams. It seems so hard to concentrate on studies in a classroom when the sun is issuing an invitation through the window to come and enjoy the wonderful feeling of being outside on a beautiful spring day. Isn't it a shame that we Adamsites must put aside our temptations to play "hookey" and that spring only comes but once a year!

However, a word to the wise — remember that all play and no work leads to a vacant seat at commencement and the same old seat in the same class next fall.

Dear Diary

March 13,

Tonight was the night of the big play. (I was the heroine.) The play was progressing perfectly until it came to the part where I was supposed to call on my faithful dog, Strongheart, to rescue me. Well, I called but Strongheart didn't budge, until someone came up with the idea of putting a cat on the stage. Then Strongheart took off chasing the cat. In his mad dash he knocked over the scenery and half the players, including me. By that time I was sure the play was a flop, but everyone seemed to be enjoying it. They were laughing so hard it seemed their sides would split. Boy, what a play!!!

March 14,

You'd never guess what happened to me today. I was out driving and a policeman stopped me. Before I could say anything, he said, "Young lady, did you know you were doing seventy?" Well, I thought that was wonderful since I had just learned to drive, and I said so. It seems that the policeman didn't agree. After that little episode, when I was on my way home, a car stalled in front of me. I asked if I could help, and the driver said that I could give his car a push. He said I had to get the car going up to 35 m. p. h. before it would start. Well, naturally I thought he meant I had to get my car going at 35 m. p. h. before I pushed him. So, I did!

March 15,

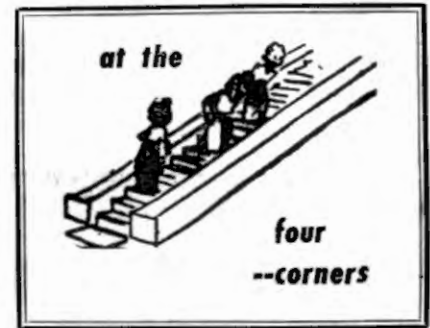

Today was Mom and Dad's anniversary. My sister, Ellen, and I had invited some relatives over for a spaghetti dinner we were going to fix for Mom and Dad. We weren't sure how much to fix and one box apiece didn't look like too much, so that's about how much we fixed. As it happened, we had more spaghetti than we bargained for. Everyone liked the dinner and ate their fill, but something tells me we'll be having spaghetti for quite awhile.

POEM

Who comforts me in moments of despair?
Who runs fingers lightly through my hair?
Who cooks my meals and darns my hose?
Squeezes nose drops in my nose?
Who scrubs my back when in a shower?
And wakes me up at the proper hour?
Who helps keep me on the beam?
And figures in my every dream?
I do.

Spring just can't be too far off with all the March winds and April showers we've been having. The basketball season was officially closed with the antics of Adams Eve last Friday night. A note to all juniors: don't forget about that all important night that is creeping closer all the time. The Junior Prom is just around the corner.

Miss Bauer's first hour history class is raising a fund to buy Mr. Healy a pair of rollerskates so he won't wear out the soles of his N. D. shoes as he walks around the classroom.

What's this we hear about some certain sophomore boys being chased all the time.

Last weekend was a busy one for all the gals with Wabash guys. The Adams contingent moved down to Wabash for the annual "Fig Island."

In the spring a young girl's fancy must turn to things other than the opposite sex with all the broken romances around the old alma mater.

Who is the certain boy that A. W. has been seen with lately?

Don't forget to support the Korean Orphan Drive with your pennies. Give your Pennies for Peace.

The office gets many unusual excuses for tardy admits, don't they, Donna and Helen?

Know Your Teachers

Our first teacher is a graduate of Indiana State Teachers College in Terre Haute. Her favorite foods are spare ribs and sauerkraut. She liked the movie "War and Peace" and she likes to hear Harry Belafonte sing "Banana Boat". In her spare time she likes to read, play the violin, sing, and take hikes. Her pet peeve is students who chew gum in class. Her most memorable experiences have taken place while chaperoning the Booster Club buses. She likes the beautiful surroundings at Adams and the friendly atmosphere. This teacher teaches freshman and sophomore English.

Our next teacher is a blue-eyed fellow who keeps himself busy by sponsoring Drama Club, National Thespians, and Debate Club. In what little spare time he has he likes to swim and read. His twin girls also take up some of his time. His favorite book is "Gone With the Wind" and his favorite food is frog legs. His pet peeve is students who are in school just to loaf, not to learn. His most memorable occasions at Adams have been the installations of National Thespians. This teacher teaches a variety of subjects: French, English, public speaking, and dramatics.

The next teacher has been teaching at Adams for three years. She likes the "hustle bustle" atmosphere at Adams, and the enthusiasm of the students. She loves to eat fried chicken and ice cream. In her spare time she likes to work in the garden, read, and fly with her husband in their own airplane. This teacher sponsors N.C.C.J. and teaches community civics. She is also the freshman guidance counselor. Her pet peeve is people who are inconsiderate of others.

Our last teacher is an outdoor man. He loves to fish and hunt. His favorite books are "Science of Life" and "The Rivers Ran East." He likes to eat roast mallard stuffed with wild rice. He likes to hear any Rogers and Hammerstein music. He has been teaching biology at Adams for five years and sponsors the Adams Waltons. The most memorable occasion in his mind is winning the Hammond game for the football championship. His pet peeve is students who show a lack of social and mental maturity.

EAGLE of the WEEK

This week's Eagle is Sue Metcalfe. Sue has blond hair and is five feet, seven inches tall.

Sue keeps herself busy with many extra-curricular activities. She is the vice-president of Senior Glee Club, secretary-treasurer of Junior Red Cross and a Student Council board member. She also belongs to Drama Club, Thespians, TOWER, and National Honor Society.

Sue's favorite television programs are "Climax" and "Playhouse 90." Her favorite song is "Young Love." She goes for all types of food, but she especially likes fried shrimp, French fried potatoes, and pumpkin pie. Terry Conley manages to occupy the little bit of spare time Sue does have.

Sue's most memorable occasions at Adams were being inducted into the National Honor Society and being on the Queen's Court. Sue says she dreads leaving Adams and starting all over again, as a freshman in college. Sue plans to attend Purdue University in the fall and to prepare for primary teaching.

WOULDN'T IT BE STRANGE IF:

Sue Shotola had long black hair.

Miss Law taught applied design.

Mr. Powell gave "A's" to everyone for Drivers Ed.

Roy Brown wore a size 4AAA shoe.

Everyone spent their entire Fri. & Sat. nights studying.

Dick Nichols wasn't friendly to everyone.

Mrs. Nagy taught all girls.

Mr. Crowe never stood anyone on the wall.

Wes Rachels didn't play basketball.

Bev Twigg didn't blush.

Mr. Krider was 5' 3" and weighed 110 pounds.

Pete Sherman clapped in assemblies.

June Rosenstein bit her nails.

Ken Marvel was 4' 10".

Colds can be positive and negative. Sometimes the eyes have it and sometimes the nose.

CLUB NEWS

JUNIOR WALTONS

John Davis, president of the Junior Waltons, explained the purpose of the club to the new freshmen recently. Freshmen are invited to attend the Junior Walton meetings which are held every other Wednesday in room 208 after school at 3:15.

The Waltons haven't checked their birdfeeding stations recently, but they have bought a quail feeder with money from their treasury. This feeder has been placed on the grounds of the Issac Walton League.

SOUTH BEND YOUTH COUNCIL

The South Bend Youth Council is not a school sponsored club as it is sponsored by the South Bend City Council. Since it is sponsored by an outside organization, it is not a part of the school curriculum although representatives from Adams are on the council.

The purpose of this council is to help teenagers win the understanding and respect of their parents and others in the community. It also attempts to improve and organize wholesome activities for the youth of South Bend.

The attendance of Adams students could be improved. The regular meetings of the council are held the second and fourth Tuesday evenings at 7:00 p.m. in the City Hall. If anyone is interested in joining the council, they can contact Becki Hurst, room 109, or Norma Esarey, room 114; or attend the next meeting which will be March 26.

"Has-Beens" and "Hi-Y" Win Adams Eve Games

Hi-Y Hotshots came from behind to sneak past Fischer's intramural champs and take the game by a score of 42-40. Right or Wrong?

The "Has-beens" outsmarted the "Will-bees" in a close 35-33 game featuring the antics of the latest hit clown Larry Smith, and those two masters of the long shots "Wiley Wes" (Rachels) and "Tiger" (Don Rowe). Right or Wrong?

If you answered both of the above questions wrong you had better talk to some friend who went to Adams Eve.

The Hi-Y Hotshots made a flying try for the game which ended up very successfully. However, the intramural champs, Fischer's Five, did offer a bit of competition leading almost the whole game.

Everyone waited patiently. All of a sudden the floor was simply overrun with pajama-clad, odd-looking characters hiding behind dark glasses and looney hats.

Using Jim Smith, Ron Sternal, John Ross, and Dick Scott because they were the only three "Has-beens" this year, they played a most interesting game.

At the half of the second game, Miss Bready and her girls gave a trampoline exhibition which was very good.

Thank you, Don Rowe and the Hi-Y, for this interesting evening. It proved to be very entertaining and exciting.

POSTNOTES: Both losers should protest the games they lost because of an illegal referee. Moe Aronson was spotted with a 55-56 I.H.S.B.R. patch on his shoulder instead of the 57-58 model. . . . Didn't pay your dues??

CLUBS BEING SHINED BY EAGLE GOLFERS

"Anyone for golf?" At Adams there are several occasions when one would receive the answer "Yes." The time is now approaching for getting out the clubs and tees, polishing the woods, and shining the irons.

This year, as last year, Ronnie Miliken and Ron Miller, the two returning lettermen on the Adams team, are doing just that. They will be aided by Peter Trescott, Jim Stoner, Joe Cissell, Dave Chizek, John Van Aman, and Bob Lott, all of whom were out last year for golf.

The coach, Mr. Ernest Kaeppler, hopes to see more students coming to the matches this year. Adams is starting new triangular as well as dual matches this year and all are to be medal rather than match play.

Elkhart has a new team this year. They have not had one before and everyone is anxious to see how good they are going to be.

Last year the Eagle golfers compiled a record of five wins, four losses, and one tie.

The 1957 golf schedule is as follows:

April 11—Adams-Riley at LaPorte
16—Adams-Elkhart at Michigan City
18—Adams at Central
23—Mishawaka at Adams
25—Adams - LaPorte - Riley at Erskine
30—Adams - Michigan City at Elkhart

CENTRAL BEARS MOVE ON TO FT. WAYNE

The Central Bears, the team who unseated Adams from the tourney, jumped the second hurdle to the state title by winning Elkhart's regional. This is the first regional that Central has won since 1953, the year they won the state.

In the afternoon Central rolled over the Elkhart Blue Blazers 66-55. Central, late in the game, had the Blue Blazers by 18 points. For Central it was once again Herbie Lee taking charge, getting 20 points. Lee McKnight of Central got plenty of valuable rebounds from Elkhart's great rebounder, Ted Luckenbill.

Pierceton nipped Plymouth in the other game and won the chances to play Central.

The Cubs stayed with Central one quarter trailing 12-11 at that stop. From then on Central went on to break a regional scoring record 89-42 winning by 47 points. Sylvester Coalmon also broke a regional record by netting 27 points. Herbie Lee also hit over 20, netting 22.

Central's next hurdle is the one-man team, Fort Wayne South Side. This one man is 7' Mike McCoy. Marion plays Noblesville in the other game.
