Purdue Features Day For Adams Juniors

High school juniors, teachers, and parents are cordially invited to attend the Purdue High School Junior Day, Saturday, March 29, 1958 at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

The staff and students provide students, parents, and teachers with an opportunity to become better acquainted with the educational opportunities at Purdue. High School Junior Day is a valuable experience as it supplements the counseling students receive at Adams.

Preparation for college begins early in high school. Juniors should become acquainted with the problems confronting them. The program is designed so that students may use the experiences and information in planning their senior year more effectively. Since going to college and high school planning is a family affair, parents are urged to take advantage of this program.

Remember the date—High School Junior Day, Saturday, March 29!

Since this is not a school-sponsored activity, it was suggested that students arrange their own transportation along with others planning to visit the campus.

Play Your Part

"And God created man in His own image, in the image of God He created him." And it doesn't say he was white, it doesn't say he was black, it doesn't say he was Catholic or Protestant or Jew. It just says God created man.

Each of us is different, but we all have one thing in common; we are children of God. No matter what our religion happens to be, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" is a basic principle advocated by all faiths.

The world situation at the present time is one in which nations have adopted attitudes of fear, suspicion, and distrust. Our goal is to achieve world peace and brotherhood. But we can never arrive at world understanding until our country, our communities, our homes, and our hearts are free from the bonds of prejudice. Each and everyone of us must play a part in destroying prejudice before it destroys us!

What can we do about these prejudices? In specific situations we can avoid racial jokes. We can avoid derogatory nicknames and phrases—unnecessary labels such as "your people" or "my people." By merely using good common sense, we can see that generalizing—condemning an entire group because of only one person's actions—only spreads the ugly germ of prejudice. But if we apply the same fair standards of judgment to all persons regardless of background, we are accomplishing much in the way of equal rights for all.

In our church youth groups we can invite similar groups of other races and religions, not necessarily for worship but for social periods and discussions on topics of civic concern. In our social, civic, and school clubs we can see that members are not barred from membership because of race, religion or nationality when they are otherwise qualified for membership. We can feature more programs on group relations in our organizations.

In our daily contacts with our friends and fellow students we can pop the bubble of prejudice. When a student or a teacher makes a remark that we feel is biased, we can explain our feelings in a calm and tactful manner, our intention being to aid understanding rather than to encourage hostility by a "holier-than-thou" attitude.

Many may say that this is a free country. Yes, we live in a democracy! But do we really? Are we entirely free from the binding chains of prejudice that limit our outlook on life? Do we realize what makes it great? Poles, Italians, Chinese, Hungarians, Germans, English, Catholics, Protestants, Jews—THAT'S AMERICA!

May God grant us the serenity to accept the things we cannot change, the courage to change the things we can, and the wisdom to know the difference.

May He hasten the day when "they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid."

OPINION POLL

Question: What do you think of Happy John MacDonald Day?

Dave Hoyt: It's sharp!

Lynn Palmer: Sounds interesting.
Mr. Hunter: I like it! I believe they look like gentlemen for a change.

Ben Endres: I think it's a good influence on the freshmen.

John Bock: It's for the birds. The one who made it up should be executed. (me)

Judy Kelly: Collegiate, collegiate, yes, they are collegiate.

Mr. Crowe: It's a tribute to old MacDonald. It gets the kids away from wearing underwear and nightgowns. He'll have served his purpose. The fellows around here dress like alley-fliers.

Peppy Hirou: It could become expensive.

Opening Night A "Smash"

In the sage words of a notable critic, "The good news is that 'Good News' is good!"

The public high schools' production of the popular musical comedy so delighted South Bend audiences that it was necessary to run the show an extra night in order to accommodate all the ticket buyers.

Directed by James Lewis Casaday, "Good News" tells the story of college life in the Roaring 20's and everything—the sets, the costumes, the acting, the music, the dancing—seemed to catch the spirit of that era.

The big dance number, "The Varsity Drag," arranged by Marie Buczkowski, drew wild applause from the audience for many of whom it probably provided fond memories.

Especially delightful were the scenes of the locker room, the crap game, and the dormitory, all riotously funny and well-acted.

Much credit is due Miss Barbara Kantzer who conducted the orchestra in the vocal numbers, Cecil Dear-dorff, who arranged and conducted the overture, George Petit who designed the sets, the production staff, and the entire cast who can point with great satisfaction to a memorable performance and a job well done.

Let's Talk Turkey

Nerhaba, Kari severin. As translated by Rona Belek, our foreign exchange student this means, "Hi, I like snow." Rona, who is staying with Sue Maurer, was worried about how we would act towards her when she first arrived at Adams. She has since discovered that Adams' students are very friendly and have a sincere interest in Turkey and her life there.

Rona is taking four solids this semester: Typing, English VIII, U. S. History II, and Studio Art. The only trouble she has with English can't be taught in class. It is the teen-age language. She was very surprised the first time she heard, "I just eat him up totally." (We can't blame her for being confused).

What A Traveler

Since Rona has arrived, she has had several chances to travel around the country. Early in December, she and Sue went to Chicago with the Drama Club to see "My Fair Lady." During Christmas vacation she went to Delray Beach in Florida. A few weeks ago the Maurer family and Rona went to Caberfae, Michigan for snow skiing. While she was there she met one of her friends from Turkey who also is an exchange student.

Rona is indeed a welcome addition to the student body, and when she graduates in June many students will have increased their understandings concerning the Turkish people.

See You
At The Tourney!

Speaking of snow, I wonder if South Bend is turning into the South Pole. Could it be, anyway, Merry Christmas.

"As a lover the boy's a star . . ." Three Adams girls are singing this catchy tune from "Good News" about John Skiles, Riley's contribution to back stage Romeo.

Adams is not to be slighted when it comes to backstage Romeos—Dave Getzinger has two Rileyites humming this tune—Debbie Thomas and Maureen Mahoney.

At opening night of "Good News" were seen Gail Levy and Bob Ingalls, Jan Conrey and Keith Malcolm, Linda Hammes and Tom Cox, Coleen Riley and Bob Chreist, Carol Nace and Sam Purdy, Karen and Fred, Sandy Weaver and Burke Jackson, Dixie Davis and Dave Gunn, Susie and Chuck.

A grave problem has arisen in the 3rd hour English VI class. Larry Thompson has submitted his solution in poetry:

Phil Mikesell is causing irritations
By expounding his cogitations
So we're wont of a plan
To silence the man
And, thus, rummaging through condemnations.

Would a gag keep his palate from wagging —
Or would tape keep his masseter sagging?
Must we be violent
To keep his lips silent?
Or will he be influenced by nagging?

But why must we all be protesting
And sweet cries for silence requesting
When deep down inside
Regardless of pride
We all enjoy his jesting!!

It has been decided that Adams, without a doubt, has the best looking male teachers and student teachers of all the high schools in town. Not that we females mind, but at times the teacher is more thoroughly studied than the course.

Jim Daniel—attention! Although we are sure no malice was intended, we feel that the large-sized dig you gave a member of the Tower staff last week was quite unjustified. If you had read Senior Snitches more carefully, you would have seen printed that the author is anonymous, she is not one of the editors.

We hear that every day is Valentine's Day! How convenient . . .

Seen at the Memorial Hospital Charity Ball: Bev Tompkins, Joe Barnette (Wabash); Carolyn Graf, Roy Hruska (Riley); Julie Ebeling, Joe Miller (ND); Sue Welber, Tom Harvey (St. Joe); Nancy Wilson, Dave Jamieson, (Goshen); Marti Brannan, Buddy Cox (Ohio); Karen Keller, Fred Christie (alum).

Is there a subversive element in our advanced language classe s?

Date Time Again, Men

The most important part of a good party is a very cool female companion. The following are the qualifications for a very cool date:

Hair—You should be able to run your fingers through it without finding any burrs. If you should find burrs, look again. Your date may be a cocker spaniel.

Eyes—It is important that she has two, and that they are the same color. Black Watch Plaid is out of style this year.

Teeth—Preferably a full set, if not the missing teeth should be in the back, not the front two. This is because it is very hard for the girl to talk with her mouth shut.

Now that you have a date, you have to select the proper beverage.

Coke—This is the safest because after one your date will not want any more, especially if you pour a little salt in it.

Gin—Known the world over as an aphrodesiac, it mixes well with grape juice, orange juice, and Schmulka Bernstein's Fermented Beet Borscht. Anyway, unless you and your date are 21 forget about it.

Water—This the cheapest of all drinks, and indeed the best — won't cost you a penny.

George Was Here

If you check your calendar, you will find that number 22 is in red. This could mean that February 22 is the start of National Elephant Week or perhaps Save A Flea Day. If these are your thoughts, they are wrong. February 22 is the birthday of George Washington plantation owner, President, soldier, one of the founders of our country and of pony tails.

George Washington had little schooling but he was a man of action. When George was a young man, he inherited Mount Vernon. He loved farming; however, time and time again he had to leave his beloved Mount Vernon to serve his country. He became well known as a soldier during the French and Indian War and when the Revolutionary War started, he was chosen Commander-in-Chief of the army. His soldiers were untrained farm boys, and it was only because of Washington's courage and determination that we were able to win the war.

First in Peace

Soon after the war George married Martha Curtis a wealthy widow with two children. He was then called to serve his country by heading the Constitutional Convention. It was during this convention that our constitution was drawn up. In April of the next year Washington was elected the first President of our country.

There are many legends concerning George Washington which we have no way of knowing are true. But we do know that Washington was a man of strong feelings. He had a hot temper which he always tried hard to control. However, he was a warm, friendly person who enjoyed jokes and was extremely fond of children. Washington was tall and strong. He face was stern and deeply lined. The modest man is truly "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Fischer to Head Monogram Club

Last Friday the Monogram Club held their second semester elections. The results are: Bob Fischer, president; Tom Kaiser, vice-president; Peppy Hirou, secretary; Jack McCormick, treasurer; Jerry Alford, sergeant-at-arms.

Bob Fischer said that the only project the club has on its agenda is an annual sock hop to be held in the spring.

Tennis Player — First Class

Dave Christman has been the winner of tennis trophies in Northern Indiana for many years. In 1956 and 1957 he won the city championship in 1957 for the age group of 15 and under.

State Champ, Too

In the summer of 1956 Dave became the State Tennis Champion and won a trip to Chicago for one week. The following year he was runner-up in the state contest and was given a trip to California for one week. There he played in the National Tennis Championship for the age group of 18 and under. These various contests were sponsored by the Jaycees.

Dave's career was launched at the age of seven and ever since he has been working very hard to improve and perfect his game.

Senior Snitches

It has been reported by a reliable source that the Vice-President of the Senior class, Jim Messick, has a secret admirer from St. Mary's. Our "Hero" can limit the possibilities since he hears she's going steady with another. Some of the F. gender just might be disgraced to hear of such a thing.

Tough Jamokie

Mr. Goldsberry's use of the expression, "T. J." (tough jamokie) has started an avalanche of alphabetic remarks. I think they're rather silly; but as they say, we're in the best years of our lives. If the use of such expressions as T. G. (tough jello), T. P. (tough psychology), or T. Y. (tough yogurt), then, by all means, let them be widely used in your vocabulary.

Who Comes to College for Knowledge?

After seeing "Good News" interpretation of Pi Beta Phi, I decided to visit Judi Sheets, a pledge at Ball State. Judi's roommate told me that she reads the TOWER inside and out. I also saw other grads — Bonnie Hewitt, Pi Phi, and Carol Weldy, Alpha Omicron Pi. Adams is well represented sorority-wise there. T. F. (tough philosophy!)

Victory No. 10 for Adams Beat Elkhart 55-50

The John Adams Eagles racked up their 10th victory of the season by topping the Blazers of Elkhart 55-50 in a thriller that was tied six times. This was the 19th outing for the Eagles and evened up their conference record at four and four. It was the third loss in eight games for Elkhart.

After the game was tied three times early in the first period the Blazers roared to an 11-8 first period lead. Sloppy ball handling by Adams proved costly as Elkhart gained this lead.

Blazers Blaze

A basket by Lee "Buddy" McKnight closed the gap to 13-12 at the outset of the second period. However, the Blazers then blazed back to gain a 22-14 lead with 3:15 left in the period. A spark suddenly ignited in the Eagle attack. The spirited five, getting excellent rebounding from Gene Phillips, roared back to finally tie it 24-24 on a tip in by Roland "Deacon" Davis with but a few seconds left in the half. A late bucket gave Elkhart a 26-24 lead at the intermission.

With 6:30 left in the third period a free throw by "Buddy" McKnight tied the score at 27 all, and a few seconds later his bucket gave Adams a 29-27 lead. The Eagles pulled away to a 37-29 lead with two minutes to go in the period and held a 29-35 third period lead. The Eagles again left Gene Phillips as a sleeper and gained a quick important basket in their drive for the lead.

Eagles Fly

In the fourth period the Eagles pulled away to 47-39 lead with four minutes gone. However, this lead was quickly dwindled to one point until a tip in by Phillips gave the Eagles a 51-48 lead. It was not until baskets by Davis and Phillips gave the Eagles their final lead was the game iced.

Davis and McKnight led the Eagles with 16 points apiece while Gene Phillips tallied 13. Jim Lichtenberger and Jim Swathwood led Elkhart with 17 and 12 respectively.

In the preliminary game Elkhart held on to a 13-11 halftime lead to take the "Beagles" 39-37. Dave Stout led the scoring with 16 points.
