Adamsites Win State Achievement Awards

Concert Features Adams Soloists

The band, orchestra, and glee clubs' Spring Concert will be given tonight at $8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. It will be the result of many hours of work by Adams music students, including the six soloists, Bonnie Coker, Bill Waterson, Gene Stevens, Larry Thompson, Janice Weiss, and Pat Scott.
Familiar songs from South Pacific, such as Bali Hai and There Is Nothin' Like a Dame, the boys' favorite, will be sung by both glee clubs. An interesting and novel number, Model Railway, will be part of the orchestra's program.
Bob Grant and Carl Phillipoff, heading rival Glee Club teams of "Lark VI" and "Lark VIII," are in charge of tickets. Tickets are 25 d for students and 50 for adults and will also be sold at the door.

Nelson Awarded State JA Tiille

Indiana State Junior Achievement President of the Year is Marshall Nelson's new title as of Saturday, April 25.

An Adams senior, Marshall has been secretary and president of the First Achievers Bank, sponsored by the First Bank and Trust Company.
Marshall was recently named local winner in the competition for President of the Year. On April 16 he competed in Fort Wayne for state honors. The title was awarded on the basis of a series of tests and interviews.

Marshall's name will now be entered in the national contest to be held in conjunction with the national JA Conference in late August at Indiana University, Bloomington.

'La Vie En Rose' Will Be Prom Theme

"La Vie En Rose" will be this year's Senior Prom theme, according to Prom cochairmen Carol Ensign and Gail Levy.
The Indiana Club will be the scene of the dance which will be held May 15, 1959. Admission charge will be $$ 2.50$ per couple. Music will be provided by Mickey Isley.

Questions concerning appropriate dress for the occasion have come up. For the boys, proper attire will be a tuxedo or white dinner jacket with dark trousers or a dark conservative suit. Dark shoes, preferably black, are always worn with formal dress. Girls may wear either a long or bal-lerina-length formal.
Linda Ebeling, ticket chairman for the Prom, announced that the following seniors will be selling tickets: (Cont'd on page 3, col. 3)

One Week Only! No Library Fines

No, those scurvy lookin' boxes with corny phrases pasted on the side are not for the disposal of your old Tootsie Roll wrappers.
Starting Monday, May 4, the Library Club and their sponsor, Miss Myrtle Moberg, will head a Bring-Your-Book-Back Drive.

The point to this drive is to regain the books that have been checked out but not returned. After a considerable amount of time has elapsed, the fine is so large that the student does not go near the library, in mortal fear of being captured and bankrupted.

But do not fear! The Library Clubbers and their sponsor feel that the books are needed more than the fines. Thus, all fines are to be dropped for the week of May 4-8.

For convenience, cardboard boxes will be placed near all the entrances. The books may be placed in these containers.

Don't forget, after this drive the fines are to be restored. At the end of this semester, these books must be paid for if they are not returned.

It looks as though financial stability will require the student to take advantage of this drive, conducted only the week of May 4-8.

Remember, "gone, my fines are gone!"

Thompson Guides Adams Hours Program As Seniors Give Service to South Bend

Under the leadership of Larry Thompson, chairman of Adams Hours and vice president of the senior class, seniors have contributed their services to the community of South Bend.

They have washed and painted a room in Logan School, helped the TriValley Boy Scout Council send out spring catalogs, and have been aiding the Senior Citizens of South Bend.

In order to provide a greater opportunity for members of the senior class to contribute to the community, Larry and his committee have scheduled the various activities.

A-Camping We Will Go

On May 2, students may offer their services preparing the buildings and grounds of Camp Millhouse for this summer. Seniors are asked to pack their own lunches for the occasion. On May 9, the senior boys will help clean up a Girl Scout Day Camp, and on May 23, the boys plan to travel to Camp Tannadoonah to prepare for the camping season. A date has yet to be set for working at Camp Darden.

All seniors desiring to donate their services for any of these projects, or any senior who will work with Senior Citizens are urged to notify Larry Thompson and members of his committee.

VOCALISTS TO SING IN MUSIC FESTIVAL

Mr. Eugene Bayless, assistant professor of music at Indiana University and director of the Belles of Indiana, will be the guest conductor at the annual Vocal Music Festival, Thursday night, May 7, at 8 o'clock.
Mr. Bayless will conduct a combined chorus of 1,400 junior and senior high school students. Two hundred members of the Adams glee clubs will participate in the program, singing selections from The Music Man, Blessing, Glory and Wisdom by Bach, America Our Heritage, and Way Up on Old Smoky, in which Mr. Bayless will sing the solo part.
Those taking part in the program will rehearse May 7, from 8-11:30 a.m. in the Adams auditorium. Tickets can be obtained from glee club members, and are $25 \phi$ apiece.

IU Conlestants Take 18 Honors

Eighteen John Adams students brought scholastic honor to themselves and their school at the Indiana State Achievement Contest on April 25.

Entering the divisions of mathematics, English, Spanish and Latin, these scholars won medals in recognition of their outstanding achievements. Winning a gold medal, and first place in all comprehensive mathematics divisions was Jerry Hobbs. Susan Welber and Lynda Gumz were also recipients of the highest, gold medal awards, in the English and Spanish I divisions, respectively.
Silver medal winners included Elizabeth Hodes and Ted Tetzlaff, algebra; Richard Elliott, Spanish I; Margaret Haines and Claire Carpenter, Latin I; and Sherry Clark, Latin II.
Skilled mathematicians who received bronze medals were Kurt Juroff and Craig McLemore, geometry; James Weir, comprehensive mathematics Division A; and Burke Jackson, comprehensive mathematics division B.
Other bronze medalists were Carl Jeanne Martin, English; Joyce Resler and Ron Medow, Spanish III; Terry Smith, Latin I; and Ann MacLean, Latin II.

Cyclists Get In Shape for '500' Race

May 22 at $4: 00$ p.m. is the time when all bicycle riders can show everyone their ability to pump the pedals, because that is the day of the "Little 500."
Each home room will choose its representative team consisting of four riders plus one extra. The cost is only $25 \phi$ per rider and $25 \phi$ for the team as a whole, or a total of $\$ 1.25$ from each home room. Spectators may purchase tickets for $25 \phi$. All the money raised will go into a scholarship to be given by the Student Council to a worthy senior not receiving any other scholarship.
Held on the track behind the school, the race will be started by a pace car carrying a checkered flag. After the riders have covered fifty laps, the winners will be announced, and the school will be given a trophy engraved with the names of the winning team members. Refreshments will be sold to the spectators.

Svendsen Wins Scholarship
Last year the winning team was a group of senior boys from Mr. Carroll's home room, with Mr. Kaeppler's present juniors a close second. Two hundred dollars was raised, and the scholarship was given to Elinor Svendsen. This year the Student Council is hoping for an even greater turnout than last year so that the scholarship will be greater.
Adams' Little 500 is a smaller scale version of the Little 500 bike race at Indiana University, which, in turn, is a take-off on the 500 auto race at Indianapolis.

Respect Comes from Mutual Admiration

We often see people about us who seem to be respected quite naturally and others who have to demand that respect be shown them. Very few parents have really acquired the respect of their children. Some leaders are respected more than others. Some of our own schoolmates have gained high respect arnong us. Why?

Perhaps the primary reason is that respect is a two-way proposicion. It has to be given in order to be received. Too many times people demand the respect of others without showing any in return. The parent, for example, who insists that his child revere HIM because of his age and "maturity" often rears instead a belligerent child. Had he only recognized the child's desire to be treated with respect as a "little adult," he might have been able to earn the child's respect. Those of our classmates whom we regard most highly are usually the ones who have shown respect for us, have displayed concern for our welfare, and interest in our opinions.

In order to be respected then, we must find qualities to respect in others

The Eagle Ethics say, "Give to every other human being every right and dignity that you claim for yourself."

What's Your Problem, Anyway?

As teenagers we encounter many problems that seem insurmountable. Although these problems may seem not worth worrying about to adults, they are very real to us.

It is not hard for us to go to pieces when we are faced with a dilemman. We become angry or depressed and the problem assumes terrifying dimensions in our minds.

We often overlook the most important phase of problem-solving, that of definition. We've heard the question, "Just what is your problem?" and have found it hard to come up with a coherent reply. But if we can define what is troubling us, we can come to some solution much more easily. It sounds like oversimplification, but much needless worry and anxiety can be avoided if we know exactly what we need help with. How can we take any steps toward solving a problem if we are not even such what it is?

Once we define the problem we can draw from our own experiences and the experiences of others to find an answer. Did this method work out well for them? How is my situation similar and in what ways does it differ?

It all looks easy enough on paper, we say. But life just doesn't operate by blueprints or editorials. Each of us is faced with complex decisions now as we will be for the rest of our lives.

We like the feeling that we can work things out for ourselves in an independent manner. But we need not be humiliated if we have to ask for help. Our parents, teachers, friends - people whose judgments we respect, are glad to help us out of our difficulties whenever we exhaust our own resources.

But if others are to help us, they must first know what the problem is.

Hey, Man! Dig This!

San Francisco's North Beach, home of the Beats, may now extend from Newfoundland to Mexico, if comment in the college press on the beat way of life is any indication.
Memorial University of Newfoundland's MUSE ran a beat-style editorial. In part:
"Y'know this life is beginning to give me the itch. Hey don't say that man, suppose the word gets around that you're a square. I know but nothin' ever happens so what nothin's supposed to yeah but I need a shave my face is getting itchy so scratch it it'll help the atmosphere hey I just got an idea how's this I have seen the best minds of my generation dragged in the dust. Hey now you're getting it thats really beat.
"I don't b'lieve in thuh Guvment I don't b'lieve in the p'lice force I don't b'lieve in thuh Postal Services I don't b'lieve in the 'phone company I don't b'lieve in th' Armed Forces I don't b'lieve in nothin'."

Student Tom White at Mexico City college gave the COLLEGIAN his view of the beats. He lived for a time in the San Francisco "among the group," 'made the scene' if you will.
"BY THE WAY, Beat doesn't mean dragged-out or tired: that's a very crummy misconception that people have; what it signifies is that they're on the beat, in tune, aware, almost overaware, and sensitive of what's going on.
"No, the Beats are just a group of people who've sort of run up against a wall, guys who're just punching in the dark, really. They're definite rebels against the prevailing social system, against the 9-5 and no-downpayment set. They aren't exactly sure of what they want, but they do know what they don't want.
"Negative, sure, but the way I see it is that they're builders with nothing to build: the same American energy force for pioneering exists in them that existed in the Daniel Boone and Henry Ford generations you might say; but, there isn't really much of any place for them to pioneer today. The point is that they feel they're in a society that wants to make of them 'maintainers'; well, they don't want to be maintainers, so they'd rather be nothing at all until they can figure it out.
"THE NUCLEUS of the group up there are sincere, honest individuals trying to find their place, that's all. You can't count the hangers-on and the imitators and wise-guy thrill seekers. No, they're really just lost; not a new concept really; you had your 'lost generation' aīter WW I; well, this is sort of a WW II lost generation, that's all.
"Studying over the type of guys that are Beats, I find most of them are ex-GI's who've traveled over a good portion of the world, and they seem constantly to compare it with their own. Most of the time they feel the U. S. comes out on the short end of the strick in the comparison.
"Believe me, they're looking for life, but right now it seemed too far away for their binoculars to reach. And there isn't any focus adjusting on the lens."

Congratulations are in order for Clem Flowers. He's just been voted "King of the Study Hall Snoozers."
Cookie Mickelsen, did you ever find your flashlight?

OMOKOK - if you've run out of ways to write Kokomo, Sharon Reichard, try this one.
Question of the week: Which of our four famous senior girls sneaked out one dark night to have their fortunes told?
Marshall Nelson, we hear that you finally found out that glass really breaks.
Mark Camblin and Kent Hedman, will you please tell us what is so funny about a "bottleneck"?
Sandy Baker, who were you buying that birthday cake for? Could it have been Mr. You All Be Sweet from Arkansas?

What kind of meetings are being held during "B" lunch hour, Pete Firestein?
"Fang Williams" and "Killer Coy" will meet all oncomers in the wrestling room.

Marshall, Jan asked Virginia, Carol, Jeanne, and Martha and they said Yes. So - draw your own conclusions.
Mr. Bates, we hear that you're not going to New York for your Sister Carrie after all. What happened?
Is Z. Y. X. Zula or Zelda? Those who know will go to Clark.
"How are you?" "Okay, Mr| Krider.' How are you?" "Okay, Mr. Krider, okay."

Attention all Latin aspirants. Arlene Eader has found that "Gidget" is a suitable and quite favorable substitute for Caesar and the Gallic wars.
Mrs. McClure keeps telling us that "It's Just a Matter of Time" (tenses), so why don't we catch on?
Sandy Baker has found a new use for prayer books - they're pretty good for passing notes, she says.
Ned Fogarty, Ned Fogarty, Ned Fogarty.
Flash! Ronnie Medow has just completed his Leaning Tower of Adams.

Ned Fogarty, Ned Fogarty, Ned Fogarty.
Overheard in first hour study hall: "Flip a gutter." "Mum's the word." "I got the wrong answer." "So what?" "Laugh on three." "Here comes Crowe."

But Some of My Best Friends

What? . . . Who, me?
Don't be silly!
Of course not
Why, some of my best friends are.
I mean . . . uh . . . people of your faith.

Well, I did say SOMETHING to that effect.
Of course, I mean nothing by it.
It's just a common expression;
Besides, some of my very best friends

Well, maybe I did speak without thinking.
Of course, you realize that you aren't like most . .
I mean . . . uh . . . people of your faith.
I mean, there are good and bad ones in all groups,
And some of my dearest, VERY best friends
Well! My friends are very educated!
We wouldn't be ignorant enough to have prejudices.
Why, some people actually use THOSE words, and mean them! How horrible; some of my most charming, very best friends are

You must realize that it was all in fun
You know - like a joke.
I have no prejudices.
Besides, some of my very best, dearest, most generous friends are . . . uh . . . people of your faith. -Lee Chaden.

Facully Members Periorm in Soulh Bend And Elkharl Symphony Orchesiras

Two musical members of the faculty of John Adams High School play with Symphony Orchestras. Mr. Robert Ralston has played the French horn for seven years in the South Bend Symphony and he has played in the Elkhart Symphony for eight years. Mr. Devon Bates, who also plays in the Elkhart Symphony, has played with the South Bend Symphony at different intervals for three years. He plays the string bass.

Mr. Ralston has attended the University of Missouri, Oberlin College, where he received his A.B.M.S. degree, and Northwestern University where he received an M.M.S. degree. Nearly every summer Mr. Ralston attends the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music where he furthers his musical studies.
Mr. Ralston also devotes his summers to traveling and in recent years he has visited and toured various sections of Europe. His travels have taken him to Russia and to Alaska. Mr. Ralston plays, in addition to the French horn, the piano and the string bass. He also plays with the Per Musica Society, a municipal group.
Mr. Bates, while attending Central High School in South Bend, studied music privately, and he was a member of his high school orchestra. An American History teacher at Adams, Mr. Bates received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Indiana University. In addition to playing the string bass, he is an accomplished pianist and also plays the cornet.

Students Advised On Social Security

As summer vacation and gradua tion draw near many high school students will secure jobs which are covered by the Social Security Act. Most employers will want applicants to present their social security card before they place them on the payroll.
If you have lost your original card, you should call or write the Social Security Administration, 335 N. Lafayette Blvd., South Bend, Indiana. They will secure the original number issued to you, as that ONE number is the only one you should ever use. If you have never had a number, you can secure an account number card by writing or calling the Social Security Administration.

Well, intellects, three weeks, one and a half days to go. See you in ten years under the viaduct.

Denny Barnette, who is the mystery girl, and how does it feel to have pickles down your back?
"I'm a little teapot." "Nice kitty." 'Bounce a baby."

Fritz Aichele, don't tell us that you know your way around Marshall Fields. We know better.

Jan Robbe, must you take pictures of poverty? Maxwell Street was fascinating, I admit, but I should think that being a watch-dog for three bargain-hungry girls would keep you busy enough.
And what are Czechoslovakian marching songs, anyway, Mr. Nelson?
Hello there, Katie Mulligan, Marty Pierce, and Judy Anderson. How's the little ole' house coming? It's too bad you couldn't visit "Wellsy Babe." We're sure he would have LOVE'D it Newest steady: Tom Harbin and Car. He even wears a piston around his neck to prove it.

Janet Royce, how did you manage to get cornered in a dark room at the museum with four sailors? It certainly must have been interesting.

But mommy, I don't like my sister. Keep quiet and eat what's in front of you.

Adams Nine Hands Devils 14-1 Defeal

Jim Fett, Bob Sheets, Brad Eichorst, and Gary Wallman slammed home runs and Ken Marvel hurled two-hit baseball to lead the John Adams Eagles to their second straight ENIHSC victory and their seventh success in eight outings for the season as they trounced the perennially strong Michigan City Red Devils by a 14-1 count. The game was halted in the top of the seventh inning because of darkness.
The Eagles got off to a quick lead as they scored three times in the last half of the first inning.
The homer parade started in the second, and the Eagles scored four times each in the second and third on the four big swings of the bat. With one out in the second Jim Fett lined the first homer of the afternoon to left-center field. After John Bella fanned and Gary Wallman walked, Bob Sheets boomed the second round tripper of the frame to right field. Brad Eichorst then blasted the third home run of the round to left-center.

Wallman Homers

In the third Bob Howerton started the rally with a base hit. After he was caught stealing, Denny Murphy singled and Fett and Bella walked to load the bases. Gary Wallman then unloaded a tremendous grand slam home run to right-center field.
Meanwhile the best the Devils could manage was one run in the top of the third, without a base hit. After Marvel passed the first two men up in the inning, the run scored on twe fielder's choices.

The Eagles put the frosting on the cake by scoring twice in the fourth and once in the fifth. The South Benders scored without a hit in the fifth on a free pass, a fielder's choice, and two errors.

Marvel gained his third straight triumph, while Hahn the first of three City moundsmen was the loser.

Eagles Suffer First Loss to Indians

The St. Joseph Indians brought an abrupt end to all Adams hopes for an undefeated baseball season by blasting the Eagles 10-6 on the loser's home diamond Wednesday; April 22. The Indians battered three Adams hurlers for 14 hits.
Adams took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning as Jim Fett, who had walked, stole home. Losing pitcher Jerry Harris and John Bella each singled to start the inning. Both runners scampered home as Bob Sheets unloaded a booming two-base hit.
The Indians scored twice in the fourth to tie the score and went ahead for good in the next round. In the fifth after the first three batters hit safely, Harris was lifted in favor of Ken Marvel. But the Indians gave the big righthander a rude welcome and before he could retire the side three runs had crossed the plate.
The Eagles came back with two runs in the last of the fifth, the big blow being a double by Gary Wallman, only to have St. Joe batter Don Karczewski for four runs in the final two innings.
Bob Dygulski went all the way for the victory.

Bees Take City for Conference Win

The Adams B-team hopped back on the win wagon as they dropped St. Joseph 4-3 and Michigan City in a 7-0 conference game.

After winning one of their first four starts, the Beagles made a comeback win over St. Joe after a 3-0 defeat by the Indians. On two errors, a passed ball, and a timely hit by Bill Roberts, the Beagles scored four runs in the 4th inning and went on to hold the Indians from scoring again.
Michigan City invaded the home diamond of the Bees last Friday, April 24, and were sent back home again on the short end of a 7-0 shellacking. As the Beagles jumped to a 3-0 early lead, the Red Devils found it impossible to come back. The hitting attack was headed by Sam Dairyko and Bill Roberts, as Sam blasted a tremendous drive over the right fielder for a round-tripper and Bill lined a three-bagger into right center.

The Bees were on the road against Goshen this week and played host to Riley and Central
