NATIONAL MERIT RECOGNIZES THREE

Feingold Receives Pilot's License

Cadet Captain Robert S. Feingold, Adams senior, received his private pilot's license on October 22, 1959.

Bob's training began in August of 1959 at the Stockert Flying Service with Mr. Donald Flambykin as his instructor. His training was completed at Sportsman Air Park with the Civil Air Patrol Flying Club under Warrant Officer James Williamson. He made his first solo flight on December 26, 1958.

Bob Feingold

The cost of his traing was partially met by a $150 flight scholarship from the Civil Air Patrol Indiana Wing Headquarters at Warsaw, Indiana. He is a member of the South Bend Composite Squadron Civil Air Patrol.

The Civil Air Patrol is a corporation established by an act of Congress as a volunteer civilian auxiliary of the Air Force. The organization is made up of private citizens, who are either senior or cadet members, interested in the development of aviation and the maintenance of air supremacy. It has a cadet program to develop, train, and prepare the young people of America for the opportunities and responsibilities of living in the air age.

The Cadet program is a balanced three-year elective program including academic instruction in aviation and related subjects; direction and development in character guidance, incentive and awards activities; and social activities.

Bob's future plans include attending Purdue University with a major in aeronautical engineering.

FUTURE TEACHERS TO FETE ADAMS FACULTY

The members of the Future Teachers Club will honor the members of the faculty with a tea on Thursday, December 10. The tea will be held in the library. Light refreshments will be served. The Triple Trio of the Glee Club will provide the entertainment. Barb Anderson and Jeanne Barnette will pour.

Adams Junior Wins News Carrier Award

Forrest Hurlbut, a junior from home room 108 has been named by the South Bend Tribune as an honor carrier.

There are 1,300 boys delivering the Tribune now. All of these are eligible for this award. Each year 40 boys are named as honor carriers.

Forrest has been delivering papers for the Tribune for three years.

At Adams he is Activities Secretary of the Ushers Club. His hobby is building model cars. After graduation, Forrest plans to go into steel construction work.

Forrest believes that his route training has helped him to meet people and to learn the responsibilities of handling money.

P.T.A. to Sponsor Annual Bake Sale

The John Adams' Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring a bake sale at Russell's Supermarket, 2930 McKinley Ave. It will be held on Friday, December 4, from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. and on Saturday, December 5, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Cakes, pies, rolls, breads, cupcakes, fruitcakes, nutbreads, and coffee cakes will be sold.

The purpose of this project is to raise money for the various activities which the P.T.A. sponsors. Among these activities are the following: the Senior Punch, the Faculty Tea, and refreshments at meetings.

All parents are cordially invited and urged to come. It is active participation which will make the activity a success.

Six Adams Students Cast In City Musical

If you should happen to hear sweet melodious strains of music floating through the corridors of Adams, give credit to the eight survivors of the November 11 eliminations at Central High School for the all-city musical Gypsy Baron.

These talented individuals and the parts which they will portray are as follows: Shirley Marko and Charlotte Jardine, Mirabella; Terry Lehr and

Honor Society To Sell Sweatshirts

The sale of John Adams sweatshirts, formerly handled by the Student Council, has been taken over by the National Honor Society. Before the Honor Society orders the sweatshirts they would like to know exactly how many students want to purchase sweatshirts at $3.00 each. The sweatshirts will be crew-neck and red with white Adams' emblems.

If you wish to order a sweatshirt, fill out the attached order blank and turn it into your home room teacher promptly. By filling out this order blank, you are committing yourself to the purchase of the number of sweatshirts which you order. The deadline for turning in this order blank to your home room teacher is Friday, December 11.

After this date, the sweatshirts will be ordered from the company. When they arrive, there will be an announcement made as to when and where to pick them up. The $3.00 payment per sweatshirt will be made at the time you pick up the sweatshirts.

Additional order blanks may be obtained from your home room teacher.

T.B. Association to Co-Sponsor Contest

The National Tuberculosis Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association invite YOU to take part in the 23rd annual School Press Project. If you are interested in journalism, here is your chance to shine. Write an entry including material on one or both of the following subjects: "Our School in the Fight Against T.B." and "Health Workers in Our Community."

All entries must be within the scope of one or both of the assigned subjects, although original titles may be used. The subject may be developed through news stories, feature stories, editorials, cartoons, and other art work.

The aim of the project is to alert young people to their responsibilities (Cont'd on page 2, col 2)

Bill Grey, Barenkay; Sue Stoner, Gypsy Girl; and Dick Groff, Bill Gray, and Phil Stenberg, Special Gypsy Boys.

John Adam Seniors Gain Special Award

Lee Chaden, Katherine Ostrander, and Janice Weiss have earned the title of "Commended Scholar" as a result of their score on the National Merit Scholarship Test. Although the three Adams seniors were not semifinalist in Merit competition, they did exceptionally well on the test.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation sent each of them a letter concerning the award which they may use when applying for college scholarships. They will be awarded certificates at the graduation ceremony.

Lee is active in extra-curricular activities and participates in the Drama Club and Thespians. His college choice is Purdue University. Katherine plans to attend Hanover College. Her extra-curricular activities include Senior Glee Club, Booster Club, and Album Staff. Janice has decided on the University of Michigan to further her education after high school commencement. She is a member of the Glee Club, Booster Club, and National Honor Society.

Adams Club Conducts Christmas Seal Sale

Christmas seals for the 1959 season went on sale on Tuesday, December 1, in the home rooms. The home room representatives will sell the seals, distribute the red cross pins, collect the money, and take it to the office where the members of the Future Nurses' Club and two T.B. League representatives will count the money.

The money which is raised from the sale of the Christmas seals, will be used to pay partial expenses of the tuberculin tests given in March. These tests are extremely important as tuberculosis hits hard and often at individuals of high school age.

These tests determine whether or not there are tubercule germs present in the body. Positive reactions indicate that such germs are actively present. This does not mean, however, that any damage has been done. Negative reactions indicate that no T. B. germs are in the body.

HONESTY

"Truth is the highest thing that man may keep"

Honesty is a difficult but rewarding goal for which to strive. Certainly it is tempting to collaborate with your neighbor on a test, to color the truth a little to add to the interest of your story, to say nothing about the mistake in grading if it's to your benefit. But does it give you any sense of achievement, any respect for yourself, any conviction that you did the right thing? As honesty becomes a part of your character, you will gain self-respect and the respect and trust of all who know you.

Dishonesty hurts only you in the long run. By cheating and copying assignments you lose an opportunity to learn, to further your own knowledge. By lying, you create a standard of falsity which others will always attach to you; Aristotle said of liars "when they speak the truth they are not believed."

A lie can never correct a bad situation, but only magnifies and worsens it. As Thomas Ravenscroft wrote:

Dare to be true: nothing can need a lie;
A fault which needs it most, grows to two thereby.
--S. C.

A WELL-EARNED HONOR

The opportunity to obtain a sound secondary school education is important to today's youth, whether his learning terminates at the high school level or whether he plans to continue his education after graduation. However, for the college-bound student, substantial preparation in academic areas is essential for college success. In a survey conducted by the Citizen's Council of Geneva, Illinois, John Adams High School was rated as one of the forty-four best secondary schools in the nation.

In 1957, the Geneva Citizen's Council sent a questionnaire to the instructors and administrators of leading universities and colleges throughout the country. These educators were asked to supply the names of secondary schools which best prepared their students for the college classroom. A second questionnaire was then sent to the nominated high school requesting their curriculum programs, their guidance programs and their school organization plans and administrative procedures. From this information, the final selection of the top forty-four schools was made.

Perhaps we can more fully appreciate the importance of this ranking when we consider the total number of secondary schools in our country. In the 1954-1955 school year the World Almanac reports that there were 25,637 public high schools in the continental United States.

What qualities make the selected schools so outstanding? The surveyor concluded that all the selected schools had six major points in common. These six points as listed in the report of the surveys follow:

1. Strong and aggressive leadership.
2. Clearly defined aims and objectives thoroughly understood by everyone in the school system and community.
3. Well-conceived plans of organization with all positions in the school system being clearly described and the limits of authority and responsibility defined.
4. Great emphasis placed on guidance and counseling.
5. Strong co-ordinated programs on basic courses of study.
6. Effective programs of ability grouping.

We are extremely fortunate to attend a school which can supply its students with such splendid academic preparation. It is our responsibility to make the most of the fine educational opportunities which are available.

Recently five pennies were removed from an "honesty" poster. This may or may not have seemed of great importance to you. However, these five shiny pennies are, in this case, the difference between an honest and a dishonest person. If we placed a pecuniary value on other objects which have disappeared such as books, money, athletic equipment, and articles from the chemistry and physics laboratory, these five pennies would seem of minor value. However, the principle with which we are concerned, honesty, remains the same.

The following comments by members of the faculty and the student body are made in regard to the aforementioned:

Mrs. Schmidt: "I felt that our students had enough respect for the efforts of the students who do the labor of making posters and other things that they would not deface or destroy them. Again, those among our student body who do not care, who are disrespectful, and in this case dishonest, reflect adversely on our student body."

Mr. Reber: "Around here, if you want to keep anything of value, either nail it down or lock it up."

Mr. Benson: "Since the bank and penny 'honesty' poster for the Eagle Ethics Committee was conceived by students (Art Club) for students, it is hardly likely that such an act, however disappointing, is truly representative of the entire Adams student body."

Mr. Scannell: "I have been amazed by the attitude that to take from the school is not dishonest, not stealing, unless you get caught. This points to a basic weakness in the moral outlook of any individual with this attitude."

Phyllis Gordon: "I think those acts were very childish things to do and showed great emotional immaturity. I feel that a person who is so unprincipled as to do such things is a disgrace to the school and should be treated as such."

Ed Butler: "The same persons who took the five pennies and the equipment are the ones who most likely have low grades in class, do not have any responsibilities, and have a very distorted view of right and wrong."

Pat Bezerey: "I certainly hope that the person who took the five pennies is well pleased with himself. He has certainly made a fine reflection on the rest of the school."

Mark Camblin: "I feel many of us are making or have made an issue over the wrong point. Many of us are 'worried' about the five pennies. I feel that it is not whether the five pennies are returned but the principle of honesty. The reason for making an issue over this incident is to confront the student body that such action does exist. Also, we, students and faculty alike, hope there will not be a repeat of this action or any other action like it. Also, I feel there is not a necessity to watch the other fellow; each one of us should watch himself or herself."

A certain freshman is often seen writing poetry to GIRLS — How about that, Bob Medow? Comment provoked by a certain action on the part of a certain freshman: "David Fields do you have a penny collection?" Mr. Laurita, which way is the word "body" used? Jerry (Cassanova) Phillips also excelled on a recent trip to Chicago. He was seen touring the women's wear department with five females — Sherry Zerbe, Mickey Spink, Jill Paulk, Jackie Goldenberg, and Peggy Haines! Frank Mock, Doug May, Ted Tetzlaff, and John Nelson, are you really Whigs? Janice Elek, the fourth hour English class tells us that you can't pronounce "turpentine!" Mr. Schurr, we "set" around a table? Salutations and congratulations are cordially extended to Miss Burns! This noble member of the John Adams faculty is the first and only one to let a student to go ahead of her in the lunchline! The prize for the biggest and best faux pas of the week goes to Miss Farnier. Quote: "I had a very pleasant surprise this weekend. I found out that Ted Tetzlaff's father is going to marry me!" Something that the average person wouldn't understand about the above statement is, that Mr. Tetzlaff, a minister, is going to perform the ceremony! It's just that — well — ahem — er, uh, well, that's the way the mop flops! Someone ought to tell those anonymous artists of the Sophomore Class that the traditions dictate the senior year for antics such as yours! A hysterical historical hilarity: Kay Kenady did her best to keep a certain male in the gentlemen's room, but Kay, that was Mr. Roop — not Jim Fischer! Terry Lehr, was that really a great American classic you were reading to a captive audience on Halloween night? June Rosenstein says: "Beware of she-dragons which may lurk at the bottom of stairs!" Tom Brandley is said to be building up his muscles by helping girls get over fences. Break any arms yet, Tom! Bob Grant says: "Archimedes is the guy that sat in the bathtub!" Judy Hehl says: "A breakfast roll a day keeps the bad grades away!" Newest fad at Adams: painting fingernails with polish on band-aids! Question: "How can you tell if a spider is male or female?" Answer: "Wait until it votes!" On seeing bubbles arising from the famous Tar Pits near Los Angeles, another-teacher-who-gets-quoted-much-too-often-in-this-column was heard to exclaim: "Ahah! Mike Nelson!" Seems there has been a steady trek of senior girls down to Purdue. What is the attraction down there, Mary Lynn, Wini, and Jane? The Tower sincerely extends its apologies to Jim Naus, freshman, for omitting his name, as a 5-A earner, on the recent honor roll!

for their own and their neighbors health, to encourage responsible citizenship, and to raise the standard of school journalism.

Certificates of honor will be awarded to those publications which, in the judgment of a national committee, fulfill the aims of the Project. Of the thousands of school papers entering the Project in 1958, a total of 120 received national awards. Many more received local and state honors.

If you are interested in participating in the Project, you may see Kay Kenady for more subject material and then turn your entry into the Tower office.

CHESS CLUB

The initial meeting of the John Adams Chess Club was held on Thursday, November 10, at 3:30 p.m., in room 110. The election of officers took place. They are as follows: co-chairmen, Jim Bunyan and George Winkelman; secretary, Martin Stamm; treasurer, Joe Reber.

Mr. Whitcomb, sponsor, announced that the club members would be divided into leagues according to geographic areas of residence. The members within each respective league will play each other, with occasional inter-league competition.

The next general meeting of the Chess Club will be held on Wednesday, December 9, at 3:30 p.m. in room 110. New members are invited.

BOOSTER CLUB

The regular meeting of the Booster Club was held on Friday, November 20. Although tentative plans for the sale of school-monogrammed stationery were made at previous meetings, this has not been permanently decided upon.

The suggested point system, prepared by the Booster Club Board, was further discussed. It provides for the issuance of gold and silver pins, the receiving of such based on merit, to graduating seniors. This is to be discussed further at the next general meeting on Friday, December 4.

USHERS CLUB

The Ushers Club met recently to elect a new Recording Secretary at which time Don Liepold was elected to the position. It was also decided at this meeting that a member would be required to be active in 75 per cent of the club's activities in order to be eligible for a chevron.

The latest activity of the Ushers Club is ushering at stage shows at the Morris Municipal Auditorium. During the basketball season the club will be in charge of the check room under the direction of Marvin Cogdell and Gary Heidt, President.

Membership in the Ushers Club is still open to any boy at John Adams. Those desiring membership should contact Mr. Stillman, club sponsor, room 211.

CLASS NEWSSENIORS

The student directories being sponsored by the Class of '60 are intended to be ready for sale by Friday, December 11 or the latter part of next week. Tentative plans for Adams Hours, under the chairmanship of Dan McCoy, are being made and will be made known to seniors as soon as they are completed. Officer pins for class officers of '60 were presented at the last cabinet meeting. The dates of the senior proms were announced as the Midyear Prom on January 22 and the Adams Senior Prom on May 20, 1960.

College Conference Room Now In Use

INQUIRE NOW ABOUT SCHOLARSHIPS

Seniors: Now is the time for you to be inquiring about scholarships if you are in need of one. Write to the college of your choice for information. Check in the college conference room, opposite Miss Burn" office for the latest offerings. You may use the conference room during study hall if you get an admit from Miss Burns or Mrs. Winkelman the day before.

Underclassmen: Now is the time for you to be considering your preparedness for being considered for a scholarship. Are you doing your best work? Are you in the "college prep" program? Are you up to par in your extra-curricular activities? All of these things will determine whether you will be eligible for a scholarship.

Scholarships from colleges go to needy and deserving students with good scholastic records and active participation in extra-curricular activities. Others go to students with special potential or are given for various specific reasons.

The College Entrance Examination Board offers a service by which a single application is photographed. Copies are then sent to the colleges in which the individual is interested. For further information, one may write to the College Entrance Examination Board, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey.

Scholarships may be either cash or credit. They vary in amount. Some pay part of the tuition, some all of the tuition, and some, part or even all of the living expenses. These scholarships are generally granted on a yearly basis.

There are two kinds of scholarships, loan and grant. Loan scholarships are to be repaid to the donor. Grants are simply gifts. Local organizations, the P. T. A. for example, often sponsor these.

JOE EMERICK SUBSCRIBER OF THE WEEK

Joe Emerick, this week's "Subscriber of the Week," is a junior hailing from home room 223. In his home at 3131 E. Corby Boulevard, can be found three sisters, ages 13, 9, and 1. This year, Joe is taking courses in biology, U.S. History, English, and algebra. He declares his favorites to be English and algebra.

Like many Adams males, Joe lists cars and sports as his hobby, and steak and pizza as the foods he will consume most readily. When he graduates in 1961, Joe plans to enlist in the Air Force. A very ambitious Adamsite, he is this year looking forward to the Junior Prom, better grades, and trying out for more sports!

Good luck to you, Joe, in all your endeavors! Thank you for being our "Subscriber of the Week!"

Eagles To Visit Clay, Host Gerstmeyer

Cagers Beat Hornets For Second Success

The high-flying Adams Eagles continued their winning ways as they humiliated the Lew Wallace Hornets 75-50, last Wednesday, November 25, at Adams.

Ed Butler and Bud McKnight led the scoring attack with tremendous efforts of 32 and 22 points respectively. Sam Dairyko gave support with eight as did Larry Moore on four field goals.

The game was all Adams after Lew Wallace briefly led 3-0. By the first break the Eagles led 21-14, never to be threatened throughout the contest.

By intermission the Eagles had built up a 16-point cushion and coasted through the second half.

At the end of the third stanza Adams had a lead of 21 points with a 61-40 score. With the second string in the last quarter Adams still enlarged their lead as they finished up with a 25 point winning margin.

The Bees made it two in a row as they topped the Hornet Bees 35-20. Bill Helkie was high with 14 points.

Athletes Win Awards

The fall sports awards assembly was held on November 13. Steve Mellinger served as master of ceremonies.

Sweaters for cheerleading were presented by Miss Bauer and Mr. Rothermel to Sue Nelson, Sandy Shock, and Sandy Weaver. Sandy Weaver received the captain's star.

Mr. Powell and Mr. Rothermel presented cross-country awards to Forrest Hurlbut, Dean Johnson, and Mike Swartz who received sweaters. Barry High was a second-year award, while Marvin Cogdell gained a third-year award and the captain's star. He was also named most valuable player. Jerry Hobbs received a four-year service award.

Tennis sweaters were presented to Jim Hull and Vic Vargo by Mr. Kaeppler, tennis coach. Jim Fischer received a third-year award and the captain's star. Hull was named most valuable player. Howard Rosenbaum received a four-year service award.

Mr. Robert Scannell presented football sweaters to Bill Brandley, Kurt Eichorst, Louis Flemming, Kent Hedman, Jack Johnson, Lynn Loutzenhiser, Tom Meilstrup, Don Meyers, Carl Phillipoff, Sam Purdy, Bill Roberts, Dave Sink, Bob Smith, Mickey Stricklen, Jim Ward, and John Weiss. Andy Mihail won a chevron, while John Bella, Mark Camblin, Steve Mellinger, and Dave Stout was second-year awards. Doug Hostrawser won a third-year monogram. The captains' stars were presented to Mellinger and Hostrawser. Mellinger was also named most valuable player. Next year's captains were announced as John Weiss and Jim Ward.

SEAGLES TAKE WIN OVER GARY FROEBEL

The Adams tankers took their first win of the season at Gary Froebel 69-16 on November 30. Jim Busse and Tom Brandley led the Seagles with double wins.

Busse took first in the 40-yard free-style and 100-yard breaststroke, while Brandley won the 120-yard individual medley and the 200-yard freestyle. Other Adams firsts were won by Bob Grant, Don Hartke, Dave Davis, and both relay teams.

FROSH TROUNCE PENN

A 41-28 victory over Penn on November 25 got the Adams freshman cagers of Don Truex off to a good start in their 1959-60 season.

Top scorer for the Eagles was Gary Dominy who racked up 11 points. Mike O'Neal and Gary Downey both contributed eight markers.

Hoopsters Open With Win Over Blackhawks

The Adams Eagles of Coach Warren Seaborg opened their cage season on a sweet note as the basketballers dropped the Sheridan Blackhawks to the tune of 64-48. The game was played at Adams on November 21.

The Eagles defense proved to be a good one for an opening game as the "switching man-to-man" pattern held the Blackhawks under 50 points and confined their shooting range to long set shots with which the Sheridan team got most of its points.

Except for an early 2-2 tie, Adams led all the way. Throughout the first three quarters the Eagles enjoyed leads from six to nine points, although three times Sheridan crept within four points late in the second period.

Buddy McKnight led the Eagles with 27 followed up by Ed Butler with 15, Sam Dairyko with 9, Dick Clemmons with six, and Larry Moore with 4.

The "Beagles" came through with their first victory also as they dropped the Sheridan Bees 36-17. Frank Mock was high with 10.

The play of the Eagles has been outstanding at the beginning of this 1959-60 campaign. Although they have only one returning letterman, for the most part, they have not looked like a ball club with so little experience. This certainly must be a tribute to the fine work of Coach Warren Seaborg and the hard work of the boys. So far this season the Eagles have attempted 131 shots from the floor and connected with 59 of them for a sparkling 45%. The Eagles have also shown well on defense allowing their two opponents only 98 points, while they have counted 139 themselves—However, all is not so bright for the Eagles as they have lost Dave Stout for about three weeks with a recurrence of an old football injury.

Ed Butler and Buddy McKnight are co-selections as FROM AL's Eagle of the week. These two boys have been carrying the brunt of the Adams scoring attack. In two games McKnight has scored 49 markers for an average of 24.5 points per game and Butler has countered 47 times for a 23.5 average. McKnight was outstanding against Sheridan as he poured in 27 points on one handers from anywhere and everywhere on the court. Butler turned in a truly remarkable performance against Gary Lew Wallace. He hit on 14 of 22 field goal attempts, scored a total of 32 points, pulled down numerous rebounds, and stole the ball many times while playing a tremendous defensive game.

Student support has much room for improvement. It was almost five minutes after the Eagles reached the floor against Wallace before any noise could be heard from the Adams section.

Matmen, Swimmers to See Action Tonight

Coach Warren Seaborg and his John Adams Eagles encounter the biggest weekend of action in their still young campaign as they travel to Washington-Clay to face the Colonials this evening and then come back home to host the powerful Blackcats of Terre Haute Gerstmeyer tomorrow night. The Eagles will go into the weekend's play with two wins in as many starts.

The Colonials of Clay are usually the dominant power in the county and so far this season have split two outings. Two seasons ago when the Eagles last invaded the Clay Gymnasium, they barely squeaked by with a 48-43 victory.

The Terre Haute Gerstmeyer Blackcats coached by Howard Sharpe are always among the better quintets in the state. Sharpe, himself, is usually considered one of the top high school mentors in Indiana. His teams have reached the final four at Indianapolis four times in the last seven seasons. The 'Cats have won their only game this season.

The Beagles of Bob Rensberger will also face Clay and Gerstmeyer. Their games will immediately precede the varsity contests. They, too, won their first two starts.

Freshman coach Don Truex has his team in action twice next week. On Tuesday, the frosh host St. Joseph while on Thursday they journey to Elkhart Roosevelt.

The wrestlers of Coach Morris Aronson face the Washington matmen at Washington tonight and travel to Central next Wednesday night.

Coach Bob Scannell's Seagles host Penn this evening and visit Gary Lew Wallace next Thursday.
