Revised "Little 500" Slated For May 22

By NAN TURNER The annual Little 500, sponsored by the John Adams Student Council, is scheduled for Friday, May 22, at 3:30 on the school track. However, because of some important changes, this year's race will be more varied and more interesting than previous ones.

As in the past, a Little 500 queen will be crowned. The court for this year's race is composed of three members from each of the four classes. The members of the court were chosen by the students from each of their respective grades. The girls on the court are: seniors, Diane Beard, Marla Miller, and Sherry Mills; juniors, Cathy Bills, Judy Miller, and Barb Schrop; sophomores, Jenny Reed, Nanci Sheer, and Marianne Surges; freshmen, Dianne Dominy, Kathy Huff, and Roxy Mills. Elections for queen will be held on Friday, May 22. In order to vote it will be necessary to show a ticket at the voting booth. Tickets may be purchased through the homeroom representatives. They cost 25¢ and will be sold through Thursday, May 21.

Race Shortened

Perhaps the biggest change in the race is the reduction from 50 laps around the track to 35 laps. By doing this it will be possible to add a variety of activities to the traditional bike race. A raffle will be held and several prizes will be given away. This year's program will also include a three-legged race for couples to participate in and a tricycle race. The entertainment this year will be provided by several singing groups composed of Adams students.

On Wednesday, May 20, preliminary eliminations for the race will be held. The top fifteen teams, each consisting of four regulars and one alternate, will then go on to the big race on Friday. Each of the four riders must ride a minimum of one lap in the race.

The chairmen for this year's Little 500 are: Nancy Naus and Fred Mais, general chairmen; Jenny Reed, refreshments; Jon Powell, tickets; Sue Spicer, Sheila Colglazier, and Nancy Naus, publicity; Judy Miller and Shirley Clark, entertainment; Ira Zinman and Jim Stevens, ground equipment; Cathy Bills and Bill Strycker, court; Sheila Colglazier, crowns; Ken Blessing and Dick Foley, qualifications; and Fred Mais and Don Schultz, trophies.

Publications Name

The Class of 1965 elected its senior class officers on Tuesday, May 12. Elected were Chris Wilson, president; Jim Groves, vice-president; Barb Schrop, secretary; and Peg Whisman, treasurer.

Cabinet members are Dick Mueller, Scott Shawhan, Tom Edgerton, Joe McCaffery, Connie Joyner, Connie Hoenk, Cathy Bills, and Debbie Mourer. Additional cabinet members will be added when each homeroom elects a representative.

The final slate was narrowed to three candidates for each office by means of a primary election held on Tuesday, May 5. For a student to be eligible for the primary slate, he must have secured 25 student signatures and five faculty signatures on a petition.

Next Year's Staffs Kathy Hawk and Steve Sink have been named editors-in-chief for next year's ALBUM and TOWER, respectively. Their appointments were recently announced by Mr. George Carroll, ALBUM adviser, and Miss Mary Walsh, TOWER adviser.

Other TOWER staff positions for 1964-65 include Mary Dee Liss as news editor, Wendy Andrick and Colleen Bednar as feature editors, Steve Berman as sports editor, Cathy Bills as advertising manager, and Florence Milnes as circulation manager.

Glee Clubs Present Assembly

The glee clubs' spring assembly last Wednesday highlighted a year of hard work on the part of the 319 students in the three glee clubs.

Wednesday's performance for the student body was one of many programs given by the glee clubs this year. The Senior Glee Club began the year by singing at the Back-to-School assembly the second day of school. The next major performance was the 23rd annual Candlelight Christmas Vesper Service. This was followed by a performance at the Easter assembly and then this week's all glee club spring assembly.

Along with these major programs the Senior Glee Club accepted two invitations per semester to sing at outside-of-school functions. This year's engagements included a television performance and programs for the D.A.R. and Sunnyside Presbyterian Church groups. In addition the glee clubs have prepared entertainment for PTA meetings and the North Central Teachers' Association meeting.

This year's activities also included the all-city vocal festival at Adams May 7 in which the city high schools and junior high schools combined under the direction of Mr. Don Craig from Ithaca, New York.

ALBUMS AVAILABLE AT ANNUAL DANCE

By KATHY HUFF

The 1964 ALBUM will be distributed at the annual Album Dance on Friday, May 22, from 7:00-10:00 p.m. in the Adams auditorium. Tickets will be 25 cents. Recorded music will be provided.

Serving as general chairmen of the dance are Kathy Hawk and Jon Powell. They are assisted by several other members of the AL-BUM staff. In charge of tickets are Bob Kronewitter and Jon Powell. Tina Robinson is taking care of signs and publicity. Jon Powell is also in charge of the music. Distributing the ALBUMS for the senior class will be Sue Ullery, Mary Heitman, Stu Cohn, Nancy Weston, and Bev Liebig. Ginny Hahn, Tom Horvath, Sue Grosser, and Jim Stevens will give the juniors their yearbooks.

Members of the sophomore class will be given their ALBUMS by Nancy Wray, Kathy Hawblitzel, Jan Sommers, and Sandy Miles. Elaine Balok, Kathy Hawk, Tina Robinson, Bob Kronewitter, and Sue Kovatch are in charge of distributing the ALBUMS to freshmen.

Concessions are being handled by Don Bennett, Yolanda Lord, Beth Schwartz, and Dick Foley.

Students are asked to enter by the Mishawaka Avenue entrance.

In Memoriam

The students and faculty of John Adams High School lost a true companion and friend recently when Ernest E. Kaeppler passed away after suffering a sudden heart attack. For twelve years he had been a teacher in the English Department at Adams. Besides teaching, he contributed his time and talents to Adams in many other ways, foremost of which was his role as coach of the tennis and golf teams. Adams squads were successful in both sports under Mr. Kaeppler. His 1958 tennis team finished unbeaten in regular season competition, and then went on to capture the Northern Indiana Conference championship. In addition, that same squad was acclaimed as mythical state tennis kings.

To Mr. Kaeppler there was much more to being a coach than just the success which is measured by wins and losses. He felt very strongly and closely attached to the young men who played under him. Those who came in contact gleaned much from him and were better young men and women for having known him. He imparted much of himself to his students and to the members of his teams.

We will all miss Mr. Kaeppler. His memory will always be a part of Adams. The inspiration he gave to his students and athletes will never be forgotten by them nor by the rest of the school.

Let's Try It Together It was recently announced by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association that the TOWER had earned a first-place rating. The most surprised to learn of the high rating was the TOWER staff.

There are several reasons for this astonishment. The staff had been forced to modify its journalistic style in order to entice the students to buy the paper. There was not only the struggle to put out a good paper, but to cut down expenses and to sell the paper. Sometimes good articles had to be sacrificed in order to put in a more alluring "gossip" column. The rating service noted these items and criticized the TOWER for them.

The TOWER tried to maintain its high journalistic quality, but had to fight many obstacles, the most prominent one being the lack of interest of the students. Frankly, without more support next year, the paper will definitely have to become a bi-weekly publication or even cease publishing. This year the TOWER was ranked as a first-place newspaper without much support, next year with your help, we could earn an All-American rating.

Band and Orchestra To Perform Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 the Adams Band and Orchestra will present their annual Spring Concert in the auditorium. Student and adult tickets will be on sale at the door for 25 and 50 cents, respectively. The orchestra will be under the direction of Mr. Gerald Lewis, while Mr. James Herendeen and Mr. Robert Ralston will direct the band.

The orchestra will receive a special award from Professor Stinebaugh of Manchester College as the top orchestra in Indiana. This award is based on their division and individual performances in the state contests held earlier this year and is sponsored by the American String Teachers Association.

Adams Students Attain Honors Rick Faurot, Adams sophomore,

will spend two months in northern France this summer as a participant in the Indiana University foreign language program. After taking competitive tests and being interviewed, Rick was one of the three South Bend high school students chosen to take part in the overseas program. He will be gone from June 21 to August 25.

Seniors Martha Lloyd and Ira Zinman and juniors Delores Hill and Gretchen Brunton recently were awarded state honors in a contest sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of Spanish. All received checks for $7.50. Martha and Ira, fourth-year Spanish students, were second and third in the state. Delores and Gretchen are second-year students.

Know Thyself

"It's not only the most difficult thing to know thyself, but the most inconvenient." Today we can keep ourselves so busy that we never have time to probe the world within. The ancient maxim "Know thyself" gains richer meaning as we learn more about man's nature. Men and women who have become strangers to themselves have lost the capacity for self-renewal.

Self-renewal isn't measured by any index of sheer activity. In everybody's normal environment there is enough depth and variety of human experience, enough complexity of human interest to place endlessly new demands on the mind and spirit. There is enough provided you have the gift for constantly searching your individual universe with an undimmed eye and an unhackneyed mind. Here are some important clues to what we might do to foster that experience.

Keep your horizons wide. Selfrenewing individuals are versatile and adaptive. They avoid being trapped in the procedures and routines of the moment. We tend to narrow the scope and variety of our lives. We view our familiar surroundings with less and less attentiveness. Much education today is monumentally ineffective in teaching the art of self-renewal because students are taught the products of earlier innovation rather than to innovate.

Develop your potentialities. Most human beings go through life only partially aware of the full range of their abilities. Most abilities are not readily evoked, and most of us have potentialities that never develop, simply because the circumstances of our lives never call them forth. One can explore one's potentialities systematically to the end of one's days.

Risk failure. As we grow older we become less blithe about failure. We carry in our heads a tremendous catalogue of things we have no intention of trying again because we tried them once and failed. Also, we tend increasingly to avoid things we have never tried.

Kathy and Steve will both attend journalism seminars this summer in preparation for their jobs as editors next year. Kathy is going to the University of Michigan's yearbook editor's institute, and Steve will attend the journalism division of the National High School Institute at Northwestern University.

What do you think students should do over the summer?

Mr. Seaborg-Girls hibernate, boys play basketball.

- Mr. Crow-Go to work and earn their salt.
- Mr. Brady-Rest. Travel. Enjoy themselves! But we have to work, so come to the Country Playhouse this summer and see our shows. We open with Oklahoma June 24!
- Mr. Roop-Relax at a vacation spot, but take along Hofstadter, Commager, and Nevins instead of your transistor radio.
- Mr. Schutz-Don't believe himlisten to Ringo.
- Mr. Litweiler-Get out into the great outdoors and learn something about nature. I would recommend fishing for all high school students.
- Mr. Rensberger Campaign with Mr. Schutz for Barry Goldwater.
- Miss Dautremont-Take a course in the philosophy of living by looking around you and really seeing the wonderful world that is yours to enjoy when you open your heart and imagination.
- Mr. Herendeen-Pursuit of knowledge is an on-going thing. Summers offer an excellent opportunity for students and teachers alike to study those areas for which there is too little time during the academic year.
- Mr. Mutti I don't know what they have been doing in past summers, but they look much better in September than in June. The same seems in order.
- Mr. Schwanz Enjoy themselves, it's later than they may think.
- Mr. Peczkowski-As little as they can, so they can do as much as possible next fall.
- Mr. Goldsberry Have fun, be alert, and lazy. Go swimming. Mr. Loughlin-Expand the summer school program.
- Mr. Aronson-Either go to summer school or find a good hard job, preferably out - of - doors. Too many young people spend too much of their valuable time loligagging!

If you see a girl hurrying past you in the hall, madly scribbling away, you will know at once that this must be Sally Lumm, for she is the secretary of three different clubs!

tional Honor Society. Writing all of the minutes for three clubs keeps her quite busy, but Sally still finds time to participate in many other activities.

Active in Drama

She has been a member of Booster Club for four years. One of her main interests is dramatics. A member of Drama Club for four years, Sally was the treasurer of Thespians last year, and has served as the president this past year. During these four years, she has worked on the costume committees of the various productions and has also had a few minor roles. She was the student director of this year's spring play, "Dark of the Moon." Although this was a big responsibility, Sally enjoyed the experience very much.

Sally has many varied interests. She likes all types of music, and she plays both the piano and the clarinet. One of her favorite "things to do" is to go to the Salty Dog and hear the Eastgate Singers.

Spare Time Favorites

Swimming and tennis are favorite spare time activities of Sally's, but she adds, "I'm not really good at either!" She also has had a part time job during the school year and plans to work this summer and take some courses at Indiana University Extension.

Next fall, Sally will enroll at Indiana University in Bloomington where she plans to major in science.

Let's Have A Hootenanny "There's gonna be a Hootenanny, Hootenanny;

Everybody's gonna come along. Teachers will perform in the Hootenanny, Hootenanny; Every teacher has to sing a song!"

Among the students at Adams, folk music has become very popular. It is not uncommon to hear groups in the hall discussing guitars or performances. There's one show we're very sure would arouse great interest here at Adams - a hootenanny given completely by our faculty. Every teacher would be obliged to sing at least one song!!

Because some teachers might have some trouble choosing a song, we have some suggestions. Mr. Planutis might choose to perform a modified version of "Drill Ye Tarriers, Drill" as "Drill Ye Eagles, Drill," and it would be quite appropriate for Mr. Shanley and Mr.

Martens and Sue Stout, Jim Marshall and Sue Allen, Fred Mais and Jo Hemphill, George Lukas and Lynn Young, Mike Mejer and Mardi Prescott, Butch Brandt and Roberta Manford.

Also Lou Ann Bybee and John Townsley, Jessica Schaefer and Phil Varga, Sandy Cooke and Dick Wachs, Pat Mogle and Dean Vermillion, Marsha Stiffler and Russ Robinson, Diane Beard and Joe McCaffery, Shari Maxey and Tom Toth, Judy Pickens and Tom Waechter, Cathy Bills and Willie Strycker, Fran Dattilo and Joe Troutman, Maribeth Weber and Bob Walker, Mary Carlson and Ira Zinman, Kathy Zieger and Jim Baumgartner, Michelle Walker and Gary Conant (alum), Judy Miller and Jim VanFleit, Val Miller and Dave Walton, Nancy Wray and Jim Wood, Jenni Reed and Lee Wise, Sheila Neal and Charlie Watkins, Sue Hunter and Bob Kronewitter, Nancy Enright and Alan Huff, Sherry Mills and Dan Hawkins, Grace Hill and Bill ry Hersom, Pam Spurgeon and Mike Jones, Doris Mosby and Dane Donaldson, Sue Redemsky and Bill Olcott, Saundra Elkins and Litweiler to sing "Lemon Tree." Of course, only scientific classification would be used.

A complete history course could be included in "The Cruel War" if Mr. Roop and Mr. Schutz worked together, and for the English fiction category, "Puff the Magic Dragon" would be perfect. Of course, "If I Had a Hammer" has to be the theme song of the industrial arts department.

As heads of the faculty, Mr. Rothermel and Mr. Nelson deserve a special song (dedicated to all students who make periodic trips to their offices). "Tom Dooley" seems very appropriate - if we only change the name. We consider this plan a very good idea, and we are sure that the faculty will agree. Therefore we have placed in on the school calendar for May 32. See you there. -Anne Bednar.

Back to Visit

Back to my visit. I drove there in my car one day, having let Hertz put me in the driver's seat. After I had arrived, I was hungry so I went into a restaurant where I was served by a very handsome waiter. (I really went for the guy, in fact, because there's just something about an Aqua Velva man.) Anyway, he served me some sort of a concoction which he assured me was high in poly-unsaturated fats. However, it turned out to look like, cook like, and taste like jet-age plastic, so tough bullets bounced off it.

Waiter Returns

The waiter came back and asked me if I didn't want to have another helping and double my pleasure, double my fun. I politely refused and paid the check.

ADAMS VS. RILEY IN TOURNEY OPENER

Eagles Meet 'Cats at Bendix at 4:00

Today at 4:00 Coach Don Truex will begin his quest for his second city championship in the six years of the tournament. In 1962 the Eagles achieved the coveted position and last year the baseballers were upended in first-round action against Clay.

The Eagles will take the field against the Riley Wildcats, a team that has escaped with two one-run victories earlier this year. Senior Jack Gibboney will probably hurl for the Eagles, while either Jim Lilley or Terry Andert will handle the chores for Riley.

Each year the tournament seems to grow and this year is no exception with the addition of North Liberty to round out the nine-team field.

In addition to the Eagles' victory in 1962, Central, Washington, St. Joseph, and Mishawaka have also won. The Cavemen won the championship last year via a victory over St. Joe.

Because this is a single elimination tournament there is no pretourney favorite. Riley, the only city school who has never won the tournament, is again this year's host. The upper bracket, though, seems to be the toughest with perennial powers such as Central, Riley, and the Eagles.

Seniors Jack Gibboney, Tom Waechter, Doug Allin, Tom Gooley, and Bob Grey will be appearing in their last conquest for a championship that eluded them last year. The Eagles will also pit men such as hard-hitting Chuck Bolin and Vic Butsch against Riley's personnel of Joe Kramer, Jon Galloway, and Mike Szucs.

CINDERMEN SEND 2 MEN TO REGIONAL

By ANDY NICKLE

Today Russ Robinson and Milt Malone will represent the John Adams' track team in the Regional meet. Last Friday, Robinson captured first-place honors in the shot put with a heave of 54 feet in the Sectional track championships held on Mishawaka's Tupper Field. Senior Milt Malone placed fourth in the 100-yard dash and also took a fourth-place finish in the 220yard dash. In addition to Malone and Robinson, the Eagles also received a respectable third-place finish from their half-mile relay team. The Eagles chances to cop the Sectional were hampered with injuries sustained by senior hurdler Fred Mais and by promising sophomore Russell Betz.

On Tuesday, May 6, Adams defeated the Panthers of Washington, 63-46, as Robinson set a school record in the shot put with a toss of 53' 113/4". Malone was a double winner for the Eagles capturing the 100-and 220-yard dashes. Lloyd Kerr, of basketball fame, was a double winner for the Panthers.
