Scholastic Honors Presented

Under the new class ranking method, initiated this year, seniors who excelled academically were recognized as graduating with summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, or scholarship with distinction.

Carolyn Burgott, Maureen Goldsmith, Robert Kaley, Larry McMillan, and Gayle Thistlethwaite were at the top of the Class of 1964 scholastically and graduated as summa cum laude scholars and received jeweled pins.

C. Burgott

M. Goldsmith

David Simons, Gary Smith, Steven Steinberg, and Nancy Stenberg. These scholars were presented with gold pins.

R. Kaley

gart, Patricia Teeter, Barbara Tomber, Susan Ullery, Thomas Waechter, John Wiczorek, and Susan Winge.

WINNERS OF TESTS ANNOUNCED BY I.U.

The Indiana University achievement tests are voluntary examinations that this year were only open to seniors. Also, this year instead of being a competitive test, as it was in the past, it was one that gave future college credit to those who achieved high scores.

The Adams winners attended the Achievement Honors Convocation at Indiana University on Saturday, May 23. Those receiving their awards at that time were Martha Lloyd and Ira Zinman, Spanish; Gary Morgan, advanced mathematics; Gary Smith, social studies.

Seniors Eligible For Alumni Assn.

Graduates of the class of '64 will be eligible to join the John Adams Alumni Association. A lifetime membership can be purchased for 50 cents from any senior homeroom representative.

The Alumni Association was organized seven years ago in order to keep Adams students together after graduation. The Association sponsors dances, car washes, bake sales, and smokers to raise money for the John Adams High School Foundation.

The Adams Foundation was the first of its kinds in South Bend. It was organized in 1959 as an integral part of the Alumni Association. Its purpose is to give financial aid (Continued on Page 5, Column 2)

Graduates Receive Awards at Assembly

Members of the Class of 1964 were honored Wednesday afternoon at the Senior Awards Convocation for achievement in scholastic and extra-curricular activities.

Sharon Mills and Robert Kaley were presented with the John Adams Citizenship Award. The D.A.R. award for excellence in United States history was given to Steven Steinberg. This award was determined on the basis of competitive test and other factors.

The Harry E. Berg music awards were won by Dian Reasor, glee club; Karen McDaniel, accompanist; Dennis Duncan, band; and David Moore, orchestra.

Kenneth Knabenshue and Carole Worden won the P.T.A. awards for outstanding achievements in industrial education and home economics. Also Kristen Peterson was selected as the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow at Adams.

The Hoosier Art Patrons Award was given to William Olcott.

The recipient of the Coaches Award was Bruce Montgomerie, while The National Office Management Association Award went to Karen Gibson and John Wiczorek.

Best members of National Thespian Troupe 1464 this year were Marla Miller and Jack Minkow, fall; Sally Lumm and Michael Jones, spring; Jan Hadley and Jack Minkow received similar recognition from the Drama Club.

The L'Alliance Francaise Award in French was won by Wayne Parker. In addition, Robert Benton was chosen as this year's most valuable Junior Walton.

The award for outstanding attendance throughout the four years at Adams was presented to James Kloote, Larry McMillan, and John Wiczorek. The TOWER's best staffer award went to Lois Hacker. This is a new award that has been added to recognize an outstanding member of the TOWER staff, presented by the South Bend Tribune, representing the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Thomas Gooley received an award from Studebaker Local No. 5, UAW-CIO for excellence in vocational work. The Engineers Club of Saint Joseph Valley presented its award to Alex Oak.

A bronze pin was awarded to Robert Kaley from the Mathematical Association of America. Certificates for achievement in spelling were presented by the National Office Management Association to Sandra Blasko, Sandra Morris, Cindy Prough, and John Wiczorek.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES CALENDAR FILLED UNTIL COMMENCEMENT

With only a short time remaining until graduation, most of the 408 seniors have stopped counting the days and are experiencing the once-in-a-lifetime activities which bring to a close that wonderful senior year.

'Til We Meet Again

On Friday, May 8, the Senior Class of 1964 presented its Senior Prom at the Indiana Club. Bobby Wear and his band provided music for the dance in the midst of a garden decorated with pink and red roses. General chairmen Frank Hughes and Jack Minkow were assisted by Bill Strycker and Linda Winslow, decorations; Dick Beale and Larry McMillan, publicity; and Marla Miller and Barb Schafer, tickets.

Senior Finals

Tuesday and Wednesday of this week found seniors taking their last set of final exams as students at Adams. When 11:35 rolled around, seniors could take a relaxing breath and feel a deep satisfaction that four years of study and effort were over.

Senior Assembly

On Wednesday, May 27, the annual Senior Awards Convocation marked the first appearance of the seniors in their caps and gowns. The assembly began at 1:45 and scholastic and extra-curricular recognition was given. Senior members of the Senior Glee Club sang the traditional "Halls of Ivy."

Senior Punch

Seniors and their parents were the guests of the PTA at the annual Senior Punch on the school lawn after Awards Convocation.

Sports Awards Assembly

On Thursday, May 28, senior athletes receive their final recognition as performers for Adams. Members of the track, baseball, and golf squads will be honored.

Baccalaureate

With only three days remaining before graduation, Adams seniors will join with seniors from the other city high schools in the annual Baccalaureate service at Adams on Sunday, May 31. The Sermon and the Prayer will be given by Rev. Dean Norene, while Rev. Birt Harris will deliver the Invocation and the Benediction. A special all-city vocal chorus will provide music.

Commencement

At 8:00 p.m. on June 3, seniors will begin marching down the aisle of the auditorium to the familiar strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." The Senior Glee Club will sing "The Lord's Prayer" and "Salutation to the Dawn," and then Mr. Russell Rothermel, Adams principal, will present the Class of 1964 to the Board of Education and recommend that they receive diplomas marking their graduation from Adams. After the 408 seniors have walked across the stage to receive their diplomas, Commencement will become a reality as the graduates toss their red and blue tassels from left to right. An old, familiar routine will have ended and a new world will begin.

This final TOWER is dedicated to the 408 Adams graduates. Good luck to you all.

Merit Finalists Named

This year's senior class produced seven National Merit Finalists and three merit scholarship winners, highest in the history of John Adams.

Finalists were Jim Anderson, Bill Fein, Maureen Goldsmith, Robert Kaley, Larry McMillan, Wayne Parker, and Gary Smith.

Maureen, Bob, and Gary went on to receive the coveted scholarships.

The Merit Scholarship Corporation also named Carolyn Burgott, Lois Hacker, Sue Hunter, Edgar Kowalski, Martha Lloyd, and Steve Steinberg as commended scholars.

President Commends Council

This year's activities of the Student Council would be hard to summarize in terms of success. For me to say that this year was a tremendous success would be meaningless because I'm terribly prejudiced.

While the number of projects alone cannot constitute a successful year, they do show the work which was done in connection with the Student Council. Besides the regular projects which are conducted annually, this year's Council was responsible for initiating several new major projects.

Two of these new projects, which we hope will become annual events, were the Clothing Drive and Teacher Appreciation Day. In connection with the Save the Children Federation, we started to collect money for sponsoring a Korean orphan.

Barb Tomber and Barb Welber were co-chairmen of the Council's first projects of the year—the Freshman Sho-Ya-Round. The Back-to-School Assembly for the entire school was also conducted by Barb and Barb.

Bruce Montgomerie and Chuck Colip took the responsibility of the next major project, the Leadership Clinic. Some very interesting speakers from the area added a great deal to the program.

Several relatively minor, but important, activities dominated

Don Schultz

Pinhook were a few of these activities.

One of the highlights of the year came in January with the annual A.F.S. drive. A total of $1550, the largest in the school's history, was collected. Karen Bell and Kathy Ullery are to be highly complimented on a job well done.

Several projects were conducted in connection with other Student Councils. The half-time ceremonies at the Riley-Adams basketball game was held in cooperation with the Riley Student Council. The All-City Student Council Exchange Day was another project which required the help of other Councils.

Nancy Naus and Fred Mais headed the final project of the year, the annual Little 500 bicycle race.

Obviously the activities of Council required and received a great deal of help and leadership.

the Council's time at this point of the year. The State Convention in Indianapolis, a speaker from Notre Dame, bookcover sales, the Christmas Bureau contribution, and the hootenanny at

To the other officers of the Council, I would like to congratulate and express my thanks for the accomplishments and help of the past year. Fred Mais (V.P.), Sherry Mills (Sec.), and Nancy Naus (Treas.) have been a constant help and deserve a great deal of credit. A large part of the responsibility of the year also was on the shoulders of the board members. Besides heading the major projects of the year, Karen, Chuck, Frank, Bruce, Barb, Kathy, Barb, and Ira, have assisted in planning improving, and carrying out the entire program.

I would be terribly amiss if I didn't also mention our sponsor, Mr. Stephen Kosana, and his part in the Council. Any degree of success which we have achieved could not have been accomplished without his constant assistance and guidance. The administration, the Student Council representatives, and the student body were also very important factions of the entire program.

It is obvious that my part in the activities of the council is comparatively small and success could not have been ascertained without many people's assistance. My sincerest thanks go to all of those who played such a significant part in striving to fulfill the aims, purposes, and objectives of the Student Council. —Don Schultz.

Hughes Reviews Year

Projects sponsored by the Senior Class served the school and community. The greatest benefits, however, came to the members of the class of 1964 through these experiences.

In several instances, the compensation for participation in senior activities was direct. The Government trip to Chicago, the Senior Prom, and the Senior Awards Assembly afforded direct compensation to the Senior Class. Other activities, however, gave a different reward.

We grew more mature by our service to the school and community. The sacrifice of time and the burden of responsibility brought success to such Adams Hours projects as the Teen March of Dimes and the promotion of the Logan Center. The Student Directory Sale and a bus trip to Elkhart were other service projects.

On behalf of the Senior Class, I would like to thank Mr. Rothermel, Mrs. Bunte, Mr. Bonham, the homeroom teachers, and the entire Adams faculty and administration for their invaluable guidance and understanding.

I am grateful to my fellow officers, to the Senior Cabinet members, but most of all to my fellow students in the Class of 1964 for their devotion to our class' activities. —Frank Hughes.

Frank Hughes

Principal Advises Seniors

Graduates of the Class of 1964:

You have attended John Adams High School at another very interesting and challenging period of its history, one of tremendous growth in enrollment, one of the planning of a third building addition costing nearly two million dollars, and one of many new curriculum developments. When you enrolled as freshmen in September, 1960, there were less than 1,600 students enrolled and we had just moved into a new addition consisting of 21 classrooms. Within your generation of the student body, your school has grown to an enrollment of 2,000 and because of the increase in enrollment another addition consisting of 30 teaching stations was planned for construction beginning this summer. Beginning your sophomore year you have been housed in very crowded conditions including 7:10 classes, partitioned classrooms, and sub-standard space used for classrooms.

R. Rothermel

By September, 1965, we expect to have our new facilities. We cordially invite you to return to see the new additions and the remodeled areas planned in the present building. We do appreciate the willingness that most of you displayed in accepting the necessity of meeting classes at unusual hours and in unusual places. With the understanding attitude of you and your teachers, it seems you have been able to achieve as well as other graduating classes. For example, three members of your class received National Merit Scholarships. This is the largest number of such scholarships received by any of our graduating classes. Also, it is interesting to note that your class is the largest graduating class of any South Bend high school in the last decade.

The faculty and I hope that each of you will strive for high standards of achievement and make further search for knowledge through attendance in schools of higher learning, by in-service or on-the-job training, or by leisure time and avocational interests. For each of you may your newly attained goal, high school graduation, be a steppingstone to richer educational, vocational, and community experiences.

—Russell Rothermel.

From the Editor's Desk

The TOWER is a difficult project to work on. Preparation for the first issue begins weeks before school opens in September and the finishing touches are put on the last issue just a few days before summer vacation. It is a time consuming, nerve racking, but extremely rewarding job.

The staff this year cannot be too highly lauded. They not only had to contend with the normal crises of putting out a paper, but also the complications that arose from the lack of money and pressure to cut down on expenses.

It is a difficult task to stick to a set goal or responsibility that is plagued by misfortune and criticized in all circles. After the job is over, it is overwhelmingly self-satisfying to know that you have stayed with it to the end and given the best that you possibly could.

The TOWER staff was happy to serve the school and the students this year. It was such a rewarding experience and it was unfortunate that more of you did not take advantage of it. It will also be unfortunate that the TOWER will definitely have to fold next year if enough subscriptions are not sold. It would be a crime to deprive students the opportunity to know the responsibility, teamwork, and dependence that such an organization as the TOWER offers. It would also be wrong not to have the press as a means for the students to express themselves on their opinions, irritations, and gripes.

It has been a pleasure to be a part of the TOWER tradition. My thanks go to all the editors, Steve, Diane, Carolyn, and Ed, the business staff headed by Joy, and the circulation staff headed by Jo, and, (Continued on Page 3, Column 5)

Senior Sponsors Wish Grads Luck

To the Senior Class of 1964:

As sponsors of the Class of '64 we welcome this opportunity to express our pleasure in working with you for four years and to extend our sincerest congratulations for your academic accomplishment.

It doesn't seem possible that four years have elapsed since we first met you as bewildered, frightened freshmen. At that time, this day must have seemed so far distant!

As we look at the calendar and see some activities classified as "graduation" events and some classified as "Commencement" events, it really causes us to realize that you have now completed a stipulated course of study, as Mr. Webster defines graduation, and at the same time, we are all reminded that this is truly a Commencement "era" in your life. Many of you will go on to further school work, some will enter the employment field, some will marry and assume the responsibilities of family life. Whatever it may be, do assume your role with enthusiasm so that you can always have the satisfaction of feeling that you are doing your best.

When you leave Adams, wherever you may be, you reflect the training that you have received throughout your school days. Be proud of yourself and make Adams proud of you! We, who have worked with you as sponsors and as teachers, continue to be interested in your future. Our parting words at this time are "Congratulations and Good Luck."

—Barbara K. Bunte

A Last Farewell

Now, when I have only a couple of weeks left here at John Adams, and the time for my leaving is coming nearer and nearer, I cannot realize that I have been here for almost a year. A year has never gone so fast for me. When looking back and remembering all the excitement and fun I have had, I cannot get it into my head that I will never experience this again.

I had a funny feeling when I arrived in New York last August, and an excitement which was hard to resist. Then, when seeing my American "family" for the first time, another funny feeling came to me. However, this feeling did not go away, and for the first month I many times woke up during the night, and I just could not believe that I was here.

It is unbelievable that it is time for me to say Sayonara! Time flies too fast, and my memories are so many.

When I reached San Francisco, it was in an early morning of August. Right after passing the Golden Gate, I could hardly see many huge, modern buildings in the whitish morning fog. It was the first American scene that I had ever seen with both of my eyes in my life. From that, my first emotion was warm, and I didn't feel cold. Then I began my trip in America.

On my way coming, I saw many things; red, wild, rough, rocky mountains; beautiful green, fresh and white orchards. I saw the same sun which I see at home shine upon those features. I felt great! I was happy I could see (Continued on Page 3, Column 4)

To the Class of '64

'O little class of '64, I write this ode to you I wrote it in my econ class; I'd nothing better to do.
Remember when we were freshmen, stumbling down the hall, Being laughed at by the sophomores who leaned against the wall.
Remember when we were sophomores, leaning against the walls,
Being laughed at by the juniors
that we saw in the hall.
Remember when we were juniors
having ourselves a ball;
Laughing at the sophomores
that we saw in the hall
Who were laughing at the freshmen as they'd walk into a wall.
Finally we were seniors, and that was the best of all We laughed at the juniors who were laughing at the sophomores who were laughing at the freshmen who fumbled with their lockers as they ambled down the hall.
Now high school's almost over
and we liked it so dear,
That 26% of us will be back again next year.
Remember rising at six o'clock for physics at 7:10, Remember the day you forgot your homework or your notebook, your paper, your pen.
Remember those extra laps around the track for doing something wrong.
Remember the last class of the day and how it seemed so long.
Remember the absquatulation to your various copious classes to incultate and imbibe various bits of knowledge.
This poem is getting too long, so I think I'd better end it
The person that composed this poem is none other than Alan Bendit (boy genius and lexicographer)

HOOKS and SLICES

By HACKER

Upon the reception and reading of today's issue, the senior year is over, done, finished, completed, consummated, ended, terminated, concluded, expired, through! This afternoon's awards assembly is our last school function. The break seems so final, in fact, that we wonder if it is worth while to return for commencement.

For a final enumeration, we will present here a list of reasons why we are glad to be a senior.
Of course, we would be glad to be a senior just on principle, but we've been just filling out college applications lately and they want to know why we're interested in their institution, so we're in practice for finding reasons. We're glad to be a senior 'cause it's so easy to count the number of seconds left without using logarithms.

We're glad to be a senior and sit in the awards assembly without a single teacher next to us to stop us talking.

We're glad to be a senior and eat for once on the school lawn—right in the sight of Mr. Nelson.

We're glad to be a senior 'cause we get a 130-minute lunch hour today — we won't have to stand in the line! !

Goodbye to the scarlet and blue,
Our four years at Adams are through.

We're leaving the game and we all feel the same —
We're so glad it's finally true,

Most Likely to Succeed

Bob Kaley and Maureen Goldsmith

Rah, rah!
We aren't going to look back and cry,
We won't go from here with a sigh,
Cause lunchlines and yellow admits,
Announcements and 7:10 classes—
We're bidding them all a good bye!

Seagles Splash Way To Great Season

Coach Don Coar's 1963-1964 swimming team, the greatest swimming team ever formed at Adams, posted a 12-0 dual meet record. The highest accomplishment of the swimmers was, of course, their second place finish in the state meet; but the swimmers proved superior to all other teams in all but one other meet. The Eagle Tankmen pick up first in the Kokomo Invitational, the conference meet, and the sectional, while copping the conference dual meet championship, and picking up a second in the city meet.

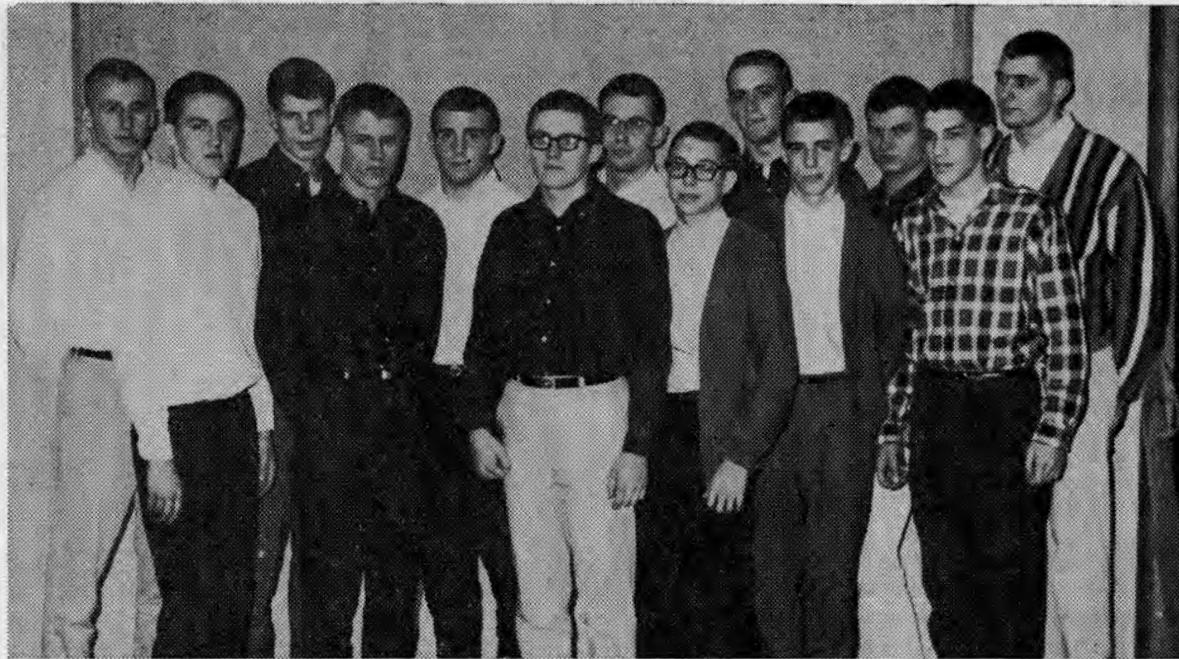

Next year's squad will be without the services of six seniors on this year's team, and all six will be sorely missed by Coach Coar and the tankmen. The seniors are co-captains Dan Jones and Lee Wise, Dick Wachs, Joe Scheer, Tom Poulin, and John Reuter.

Both Jones and Wise have set the very best of examples for the rest of the team all year. In the state meet, one-tenth of a second kept both boys from winning their specialties, Jones in the 100-yard backstroke and Wise in the 100-yard butterfly. Both boys also excelled in their events all season long.

Divers Joe Scheer and Tom Poulin, who placed second and third respectively in the state meet, have made this event the strongest of all for the Eagles all season. Both boys have finished at the very top of all the big meets the Seagles have competed in this year.

John Reuter and Dick Wachs have specialized in the relays all season long. Wachs swam one leg of the state championship freestyle relay team and also the freestyle portion of the medley relay team. Reuter swam the breaststroke leg of the medley relay team which picked up a third in state competition.

The Seagles set seven school records and two state records. The state marks are a 22.8 in the 50-yard freestyle by Chuck Busse, and a 1:33.1 effort by the 200-yard freestyle relay team. The other school marks are: 2:03.5 in the 200-yard freestyle by Bob Nelsen, 2:16.7 by Lee Wise in the individual medley, 55.6 in the 100-yard butterfly by Wise, 59.5 in the 100-yard backstroke by Dan Jones, and 250 points in 1-meter diving by Joe Scheer.

Matmen Register 9-3 Dual Record

The 1963-64 wrestling squad, though hard hit by graduation last year, posted an excellent 9-3 dual meet record. The grapplers, coached by Morris Aronson, boasting a well-balanced team, failed to do as well in the bigger meets.

Although the matmen had only three lettermen, Coach Aronson's squad got strong help from last year's B-team. Five seniors wrestled regularly for the Eagles. They were captain Mike Slabaugh, Tim Blackburn, Don Harmon, Bruce Montgomerie, and Ed Scussel. Another senior, Mel Hawkins, won his letter as a junior but could not compete this year because of an injury.

Junior Gary Zalas earned the highest individual accomplishment for the wrestlers, a second place finish in state meet.

Besides the Eagles' dual meet record, which included wins over Washington, East Chicago Roosevelt, Gary Roosevelt, Mishawaka, LaPorte, Hammond, Elkhart, Clay, and Penn, Adams also picked up a third in the NIC meet and a fourth in the sectional. Dual meet losses were to Central, Niles, and Riley.

Thinlies Shine in Post-Season Meets

Although Coach Dale Gibson's cross-country team posted only a 7-8 season record and had two wins and seven losses in conference meets, Coach Gibson's worst conference record, the thinlies' surprising post-season accomplishments made the season a success.

For the second straight year the X-men copped the city meet, much to the surprise of the opposing teams. The Eagles had a 1-5 record against city foes prior to this meet. In the sectional the harriers finished in fourth place, one position short of qualifying for the regional. The Eagles finished ninth out of 18 teams in the dual-conference meet.

The thinlies were led consistently by the MVP award winner, senior Tommy Green. Other seniors on the squad were captain Frank Hughes, Rick Myers, and Joel Miller.

Golfers Earn Mark Of 10-6 for Season

The completely underclassman golf squad, coached by the late Ernie Kaeppler, posted a fine 10-6 record for the 1964 season. The golfers also placed second to Riley in the Ernie Kaeppler Memorial Tourney.

Members of the varsity golf team are all juniors. They are Ernie Dietl, Mike Hayes, Bill Dad-dio, Phil MacGregor, and Bill Schwartz.

The Eagle duffers downed Michigan City, Goshen and Mishawaka twice each, while beating Central, Dyer, LaPorte and Elkhart once. Their losses came twice to Riley and once each to Central, Elkhart, LaPorte, and Niles.

Cindermen Race To 7-2-1 Record

Virgil Landry's first year as head track coach at Adams has proved to be a very successful one. The cindermen, led by senior co-captains Fred Mais and Russ Robinson, recorded a fine 7-2-1 dual meet mark for the season, although they did not fare quite as well in the larger meets.

The Eagles' victories came over Clay, 88½-20½, LaPorte 74-35, Goshen, 79-30, Michigan City, 58-51, Washington, 63-46, Riley, 63-46, and St. Joe, 61-48. The lone tie came against Mishawaka, 53-53, with a disqualification costing Adams the win. The only two losses of the campaign were inflicted by the conference champs, Central, and the runners-up, Elkhart.

Probably the finest exhibitions of the season have come from shot-putter Russ Robinson. Robinson set a new school record of 54 feet 6 inches and has won consistently all year. Fred Mais, who was injured near the end of the season, has done a fine job in the hurdles as has Joel Miller in the 440-yard dash. Other seniors on the squad are Joe Fleming, John Bolling, Rick Myers, Ed Scussel, Jim Bare, Mike Slabaugh, Tom Mihail, and Frank Hughes.

The only other school record set this year was the 20 foot 11 inch effort by sophomore Dean Loving in the broad jump.

Footballers Raise Season Mark to 4-5-1; '64 Eagles to Miss Ten Seniors

Coach Jerry Planutis' John Adams Eagles' football squad finished the 1963 season with four wins, five losses, and one tie. Coach Planutis, in this third year at Adams, improved on last year's record by one victory and on his first year's tenure as head coach by three victories.

In the first game of the season for both squads, the Eagles were victorious as they bombed Clay, 27-7. The following week the Eagles traveled to LaPorte, where they faced the Slicers in their first conference tilt. On that bleak Friday, September 13, the Slicers not only had a 15-game winning streak snapped, but also were whitewashed by a score of 20-0. Joe Fleming scored a touchdown and two extra points, while Fred Mais scored a touchdown to lead the Eagles into a first-place tie in the conference.

Highlight of Season

Probably one of the highlights of the season came in a game against the Washington Panthers in which the Eagles tied the opposition, 14-14. That tie left the Eagles perched all alone in second place in the conference. A losing streak of three games then hit the Eagles with successive losses to Mishawaka, Central, and Elkhart, before the charges of Coach Planutis could escape with a 7-6 victory over Hammond Horton.

A 28-7 loss to arch-rival Riley, left the Eagles with a 3-4-1 record before they downed the Michigan City Red Devils in a hard-fought game at School Field by a score of 19-6. Joe Fleming did all the scoring for the victorious Adams gridriders in this game as he tallied three touchdowns and an extra point. The win enabled Coach Planutis' footballers to gain a fifth-place tie with Washington in the final tabulation of the conference race.

The season was not over yet, however, as the Eagles had a game remaining with the Kingsmen of Penn. The Eagles came close to a .500 record in this game as they marched to the Penn 20-yard line in the final minute of play, before losing the ball and the game, 17-14 in a hard fought battle.

Joe Fleming was an inspiration to the team throughout the year as his drive, determination, and enthusiasm helped lead the gridriders to their very respectable record. Not only did he lead the team in total points with 53, and the conference scoring race with 40, but he also led the team in net yards gained with 764 for a 5.3 yard average per time carried.

Bruce Montgomerie received the Kiwanis award, while Joe Fleming was voted most valuable player. Other seniors on the squad were centers Larry Burnside and Mike McCraley, guards Ed Scussel and Don Harmon, tackles Chuck Colip and Jim Bare.

Senior Players Lead Cage Squad

Basketball Coach Warren Seaborg led his 1963-64 cagers to an overall record of six wins against 16 losses. The entire year was a period of ups and downs for the Eagles.

The season started with successive victories over Gary Lew Wallace and Clay by scores of 67-53 and 94-50 respectively, before the basketballers lost a close game to Goshen by a score of 59-51.

The Eagles then skidded to a 2-7 record before tipping the Maroons from Mishawaka on the latter's home court, 71-64. The following evening the Eagles again were victorious in a surprise win over the St. Joe Indians. The score of this game was 67-64. A victory over Hobart gave the Eagles a five and eight record before they again hit a cold string of seven consecutive losses.

The regular season ended with a record of five wins against 15 losses before the countdown in "Hoosier Hysteria" began. The Eagles suffered many handicaps during the regular season. Bill Fischer played the entire season under the handicap of his bad knees and was out completely for three weeks. Don Schultz another heavily relied upon senior, was out of action for a third of the season with a severely sprained ankle. Bob Gilbert, leading scorer and rebounder, was handicapped with bad wrists following the Riley game, which hampered his play for the remainder of the season.

The Eagles, though, were determined to make a good showing in the Sectional, and they began on the right foot by defeating Clay, 85-58, in the afternoon game. In the nightcap the strain on Fischer's knees proved too much for the

Tennis Team Posts 4-5 Season Mark

The 1963 Adams tennis squad, the last coached by the respected head-mentor, the late Mr. Ernie Kaeppler, posted a 4-5 overall record and stood 3-5 in conference action. Although this squad was not as successful as some of Mr. Kaeppler's conference championship teams, all of the netters' losses came by 3-2 scores.

The underclassman-dominated team was led by senior Bill Fischer, who played in the number-one singles slot. This was Fischer's fourth straight year of varsity tennis competition. Roger Cox was the only other senior to see any Eagles to overcome, and they lost a heartbreaker to Central by a 67-49 count.

The highlight of the Eagles' season came in a losing cause, but to a team who was then ranked number one in the state, the Gary Roosevelt Panthers. Roosevelt beat the Eagles 71-63, in a hard-fought game. Other heart-breaking losses came in games with Nappanee, 65-64, Wabash, 64-63, Riley, 75-74 in a double overtime, and Washington, 72-70.

action on the tennis court for Adams in 1963.

BASEBALLERS LOSE FIVE GRADUATES

Coach Don Truex's sixth season as head baseball coach at John Adams proved to be a fairly successful one. The Eagles compiled a regular season record of 5-7 which is good considering that baseball is a short season and there are few heavy favorites around the area or the conference.

Of the five seniors graduating, Tom Waechter was the leading hitter, with a .217 batting average during the season. Waechter proved just as adept with the glove, as he often came up with a sensational play at shortstop.

Jack Gibboney, the second man to graduate in the Eagles' iron man pitching staff of Carrol Jordan ('63), Gibboney ('64), and Butsch ('65), compiled a 2-5 won-loss record during the regular season while posting a 3.91 earned run average.

Bob Grey proved very helpful to the team this year with his fine work behind the plate. Doug Allin, another departing senior, had a .167 batting average to couple with a good fielding record at second base.

Tom Gooley, probably one of the strongest seniors to play varsity, after a mediocre junior year, led the club during the regular season with 7 extra-base hits which included a home run, three doubles, and three triples.

The Eagles finished with a 4-4 conference record which included victories over Central, Washington, LaPorte, and Goshen. They lost to Michigan City, Elkhart, Riley, and Mishawaka by close margins.
